With F.M.L.

SEQUEL--Everyone knows of 111's splendid work with plumbing in another house in another year. That's the time he took the drain pipe from beneath a bathroom lavatory and rinsed it out in the sink, flooding, of course, the bathroom.

At our new location, 111 knew better than to run the water when the same stopped up pipe problem arose.

He even anticipated this problem by putting a bucket beneath the sink in case there was, for some reason, another lapse. Or an influx of gremlins who turn water on when pipes are missing.

Using the same wrench ("something borrowed, something blue") and the same finesse, 111 turned the pipe fitting at one end.

It came loose with little difficulty. Good. Remember, don't turn the water on.

Now turn the other fitting, loosen it, take the pipe clean it in another sink, put it back.

Hmmm. Stuck. Just another turn. A little more leverage.

Hmmm. The pipe is cracking. Just a little water drips out, nothing to worry. 111 knows better than to turn on the water.

Funny, the fitting won't come loose. The pipe is cracking. Surely not.

Try another fitting at the wall. Stuck. Hmmm.

Didn't know pipes were brittle. Thought they would bend. But this. . .

"How's it going?" wife asks.

"They sure make brittle pipes these days. Must have been years since it was installed. . . ."

"I'll call the plumber," says she. "And put down that wrench."

How dare she use that tone. Last time she only laughed.

Mailing Crisis Seen

DALLAS

William L. Crawford, Director Dallas Postal Region, has urged immediate mailing of all Christmas cards, parcels and other holiday mail as a safeguard in the event of a national railroad strike.

Crawford, who directs the management operations of 2,133 post offices in Texas and Louisiana, said he had been advised Dec. 4 by Postmaster General Winton M. Blount to step up Christmas mailing.

"Early mailing of Christmas cards, letters and parcels," Crawford said, "Will give customers added assurance of delivery in time for the holidays."

The nationwide announcement to accelerate Christmas mailing came from the Postmaster General in view of a pending nationwide rail strike tentatively scheduled to begin shortly after midnight, Wednesday, December 10.

"During that period holiday mail customarily begins climbing to its peak," Crawford advised, "and we want to help our customers get ahead of this situation if it should develop.

"We will utilize every alternative mode of transportation available," he said, "to move as much mail as possible. However, we would be remiss if we did not strongly urge postal customers to dispose of out-of-town Christmas cards and packages immediately to insure that the rail strike -- if one occurs -- does not prevent delivery by Christmas Day."

Police Report Three Breakins

Two Midland men were arrested by city and county law officers Saturday in connection with breakins at three buildings in West Cameron.

City police reported that one man was arrested in Draper's Grocery on West 4th St. about 2:30 a.m. where he and a companion had apparently broken in. The other man was arrested by county officers at a resident in Maysfield.

An attempt to break into the West Side Package Store on the Temple highway was also reported. Police said glass in the front door was broken, but the store was not entered.

A breakin was reported at Minton's Place, where some beer was stolen.

The men, reportedly on probation in Midland County, were transferred to county authorities.

GIVE THE
HERALD FOR CHRISTMAS

A WONDERFUL MOMENT for Sister Mary Kostka, St. Edward Hospital administrator, as she opens the doors and prepares to welcome guests into the new hospital. An open house was held following ribbon-cutting ceremonies at the new facility Sunday. At right is Arthur M. Doty, president of The Alcoa Foundation, who was featured speaker at the dedication.

Dedicated Sunday...

1,000 Tour New St. Ed Hospital

A crowd estimated at over 1,000 people saw the ceremonial ribbon cut at the door of the new $1 million St. Edward Hospital Sunday, marking the reality of "a dream come true."

Featured speaker at the ribbon-cutting ceremony was A. M. Doty, president of The Alcoa Foundation. The Foundation's $25,000 grant was the largest single donation for the new facility.

The outdoor dedication program included remarks by Sister Mary Kostka, hospital administrator; Mayor E. A. Perrin, Dr. C. G. Swift, and Mrs. William Burns, president of the hospital's women's auxiliary.

Also speaking at the ceremonies was Sister Mary Bernice, of Houston, Superior General of the Sisters of Charity of The Incarnate Word.

Robert Ellett, chairman of the hospital development fund, was master of ceremonies.

Following the program guests were invited to tour the new hospital, which includes 19 private and 30 semi-private patient rooms, a modern medical laboratory, and obstetrical department.

The Alcoa Foundation grant was earmarked for the new surgery suite which features two large full-equipped operating rooms -- one for general surgery and one for urology.

A two-bed recovery area is adjacent to the surgical suite, which includes a combination intensive care - coronary care area for those persons who have had major surgery, are seriously ill, or are cardiac patients.

At the close of his remarks, Doty said that he was proud of all who had worked untiringly in efforts to bring a modern medical facility to Cameron.

1225 Children 'Shot' At Rubella Clinics Sunday

The "rub out Rubella" campaign was declared a success by county health officials who reported 1225 children receiving immunization Sunday.

Clinics were held at Cameron and at Rockdale to administer vaccine for rubella, or German measles, to children between ages 1-10.

Dr. C. G. Swift, co-chairman of the program, said 484 children were immunized in Cameron and 741 in Rockdale. He said the large numbers represented children from all over the county.

Lon Gee, health program specialist for the Texas State Department of Health at Austin, was coordinator for the program. Registered nurses working in the two clinics included Jo Laywell, Marie Jackson, Jane Cunningham, and Mildred Wheeler.

Assisting at the clinics were Jackie Macal, Shirley Crook, Retta Chandler, Jo Barker, Clara Richardson, Theodora Marek, Christine Riola, and Helen Massengale.

Dr. Swift expressed appreciation to all the volunteers who helped make the program a success.

Fire Burns Home Near Buckholts, Field At Belmena

Cameron volunteer firemen answered calls Saturday and Monday, the first a grass fire and Monday's a house fire.

The grass fire started on the Bill Kennon place in Belmena community Saturday and narrowly missed reaching the outbuildings and the Kennon home.

Flames were reported racing through dry needle grass toward the buildings when the wind suddenly shifted to the north, turning the fire.

The grassfire spread into the adjoining Harwell place, burning some pasture and woods. Firemen, aided by neighbors and other volunteers fought the fire for about five hours.

The Trine Mendoza home near Buckholts was completely destroyed by fire Monday afternoon. Cameron volunteer firemen were called, but were unable to save the house. No one was at home when the fire started.

Trio Nets Probation

In District Court on Wednesday, December 2, three Bell County men pleaded guilty to the offense of "injuring the (personal) property of another" and each was assessed a five-year probated sentence.

The men are Thomas A. Mikulastik, John M. Montgomery and Edward Louis Rohan.

In addition to the usual conditions of probation, restitution to the injured parties was ordered by the Court, to be paid by the defendants, according to County Atty. John B. Henderson Jr.

The three men were charged in Bell, Milam and Falls counties in connection with a series of incidents on February 9, 19 and 20. Alleged offenses included injuring property of others, theft, burglary, and discharge of firearms.

In Bell County District Court Monday, Nov. 30, the three subjects were assessed ten-year probated sentences for the offense of armed robbery.

The trio is in Falls County jail, where they are scheduled to be tried December 14 in Falls District Court on 21 counts of burglary, theft and discharging of firearms.

Drouth Stress Seen In Area Range Grass

Rainless Days, Drying Winds Stunt Growth

While most Central Texans have been enjoying this fall's mild weather, livestock producers are eyeing almost-daily clouds that just won't dump rain on their drying pastures.

Only .27 of an inch of rain has been measured since October 23, when 2.75 inches was recorded by the city gauge. Stockmen report pastures and small grain forage crops vital to Milam's $7 million livestock industry are suffering from lack of moisture.

Strong, dry winds have aggravated the stress conditions and ranchers repret large cracks opening in dry earth, a repetition of area conditions in late August.

Range grasses and forage crops that got off to a good start after drouth-breaking rains in September and October have "just quit growing," County Agent J. D. Moore said this week.

An early freeze in November was also a setback for pastures, Moore said. Coastal and native bermuda grasses are now dormant and moisture is needed to revive clover and small grains, such as oats and winter rye.

"The situation is not yet critical," Moore added, "but some rain now would make quite a difference in grazing conditions before the 'real winter' weather in January and February."

The cattle market is beginning to reflect the fall drouth situation. The Texas Livestock Marketing News reports this week that more yearlings were on offer in Central Texas markets "coming from winter pastures due to lack of moisture."

Santa's Coming!

Santa's coming Saturday and tho it is a busy time of year for him, he promises to lend an attentive ear to the wishes of his young friends in Cameron.

The jolly old gentleman in red suit and white beard will be sitting in his sleigh on the courthouse lawn from 10 to 11 a.m., 1 to 3 p.m. and 5 to 6:30 p.m. He'll have candy and balloons for his little friends.

If the weather is bad Santa will visit with children inside the courthouse, in the first floor hall.

It's Time For Santa Letters

It's Santa letter time for children in the Milam County area.

Following long established tradition, The Cameron Herald will publish children's letters to Santa in the Christmas edition scheduled for December 24.

Children in first through 4th grades will write their Santa letters at school. Pre-schoolers letters should be addressed to Santa, c/o The Cameron Herald, Cameron, Texas.

H.M.S. Cameron

Battleship Badge Finds Home

The badge of the H.M.S. Cameron has been mounted and given a permanent home in the Cameron Public Library. History of the plaque links Cameron with the British Navy in World War II.

The badge has been in 'temporary' quarters at Yoe High School since it was presented to the city by the British government in 1950. It was discovered there by Rev. J. E. Lafferty who checked into it's history and started efforts to find a more suitable home for the historic emblem.

The U.S.S. Welles, a destroyer, along with 49 other old American destroyers, was loaned to Great Britain in 1940. Each ship was re-named in honor of America. The Welles was turned over to the Clan of Cameron of Scotland for renaming. Research proved that although many American towns bore the name Cameron, only one was named in honor of a member of the Clan of Cameron. That was Cameron, Texas, named in memory of Captain Ewen Cameron who gave his life in the ill-fated Mier Expedition of the Texas Revolution.

The re-naming was followed by a series of telegrams between Scotland and the City of Cameron.

From Edinburgh, Scotland on September 20, 1940 came the following telegram:

"The Camerons of Scotland salute the towns folk of Cameron, Texas. We are delighted and proud to learn that one of the destroyers is to bear the name Cameron. It is a reminder of the enduring friendship of USA and Britain and of the Common interest in the fight for freedom. All Britain is grateful to the people of USA for their help and the Camerons are thrilled by the knowledge that a Cameron from the United States will join in destroying on the seas the archenemy of freedom."

Cameron responded with the following telegram on September 24:

"Your salutation is acknowledged with pride by the City of Cameron named in honor of Scotsman Captain Ewen Cameron who died a hero of the Texas Revolution in defense of human rights and liberties. May Britain continue undaunted in defense of the same cause and justice and liberty triumph to deliver Europe and the world from the threat of aggression and slavery."

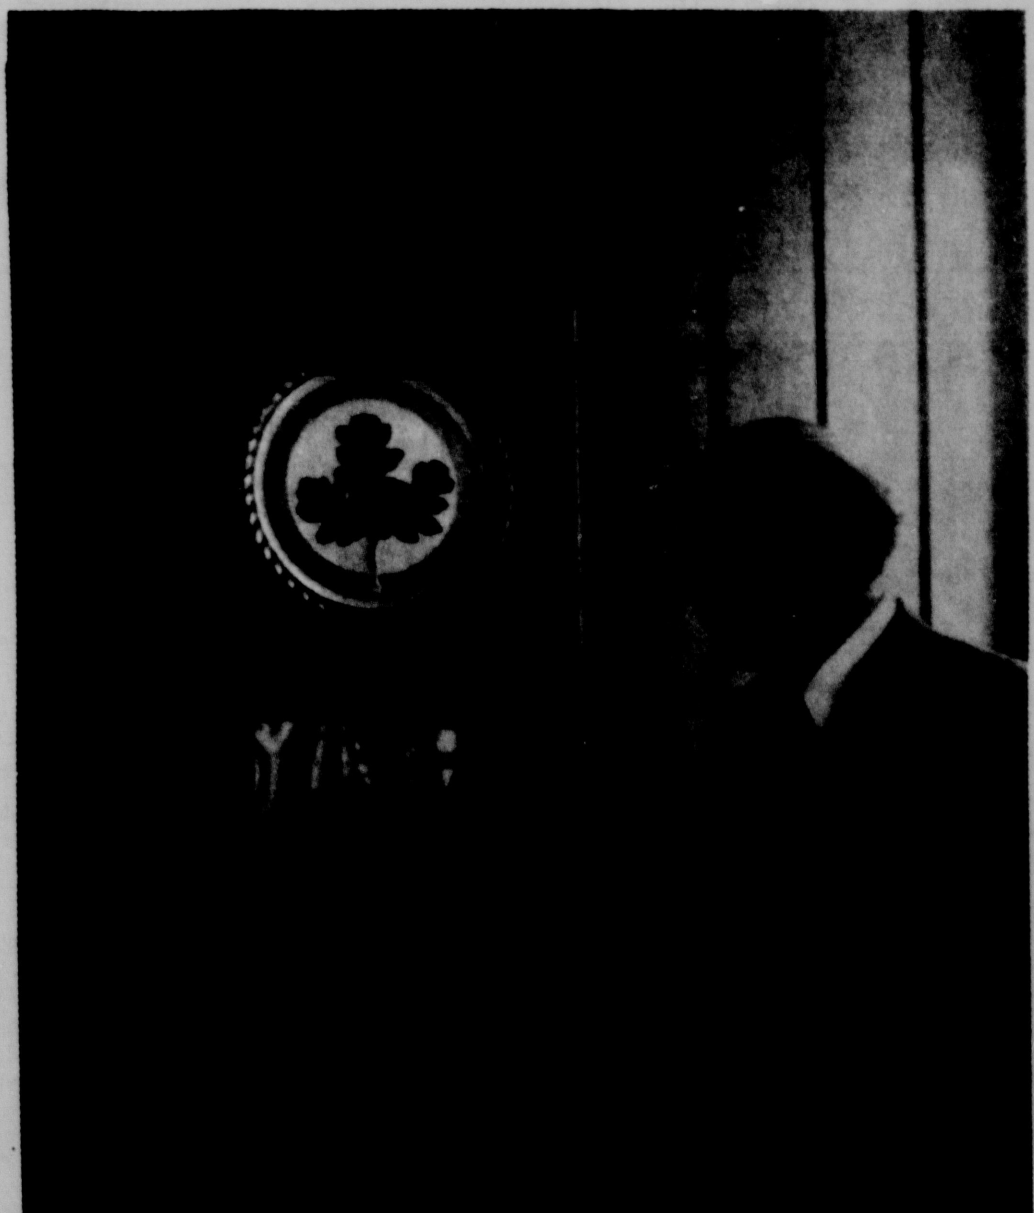
Cameronites followed the news of the H.M.S. Cameron and through efforts of the Cameron Rotary Club and J. E Johnson, provided Christmas presents to the ship crew in 1940.

The 50 destroyers, including the Cameron, were destined to help save Britain from starvation by carrying supplies across the submarine - infested waters of the Atlantic. By the end of World War II the H.M.S. Cameron was the only one saved. The badge was presented to the City of Cameron at an impressive ceremony on the Yoe High Athletic Field on September 26, 1950.

On a special platform decked with flowers and the flags of Great Britain and the United States, representatives of Great Britain, the United States and the City of Cameron took part in the formal presentation. Representing the British government were British Consul-General of the 50 destroyers still in use.

Old, battered and bruised from years of service, she was decommissioned and scrapped, but the ship log and badge were of Texas and New Mexico James Thyne Henderson and Capt. John Holmes, British Attache to the U.S. Representing the United States Navy was Capt. Leonard Mewhinney, a native of Milam County. And representing the City of Cameron was Councilman Roy Baskin and W. T. Haines, superintendent of Cameron schools.

In presenting the badge, Henderson said ". . .it was carried proudly by the ship which bore the name of your city and at the same time the name of one of the Scottish clans. It was your ship; it had ties with Texas and your committee sent tokens of friendship to the men who manned it."



CAMERON LIBRARY Board President, Dr. George Bowman, reads plaque identifying the badge of the H.M.S. Cameron. The badge of the World War II destroyer that bore the name of Cameron has been permanently placed on a wall of the Cameron Public Library.

The Christmas Word....

Christmas Season is upon us.

It's the time of year when we look forward to those hundreds of letters to Santa, due for publication Christmas Eve day.

Your Herald encourages, indeed invites children of schools throughout the area to note their hopes in an annual message to St. Nicholas. Perhaps they will again let this newspaper convey that message.

Christmas decorations in Cameron are up and homes are brightening with lights and decorations of the Yule Season.

It is a wonderful time of the year, though for parents and grandparents, those Santa helpers whose assistance helps Santa know as much as he does, it is a busy time.

Decorations in other Milam communities are attractive.

Rockdale has bright lights strung not only across downtown thoroughfare, but along building fronts.

Once the Cameron downtown is modernized, Christmas decor will be even brighter there. Our lights and streamers are handsome in late evening.

The stores are filled with good things and hearts are a little lighter this time of year. The anticipation of the deeper meaning of Yuletide makes Santa letters a welcome directory to what will happen under thousands of Christmas trees December 25.

So if your youngster is inclined, and he certainly is interested, write a letter with him or help him spell some words and send it in. Your Herald will do its best to pass the Christmas word.

Dear Santa...

Dear Santa:

Please give Milam County a new county jail by next Christmas. We know it cannot be done by this December 25.

Santa, people still get out of Milam Jail by going out the cupola window, similar to the roof "leaking" people a few years ago.

Santa, the County Jail is outmoded. Please give us a modern building with modern cells, modern plumbing, modern facilities to sustain as well as keep "in" prisoners when they are properly charged.

Please ask Milam Commissioners Court to review plans of a jail voted on a few years ago. They fixed the Courthouse interior. Why not a new jail? Can an 80 - year - old structure unable to contain people who want out be remodeled?

Santa, invite the current session of the Milam Grand Jury to tour the jail facilities and inquire into conditions there everyone is aware of. That's not too much to ask, is it?

Help us build a facility which needs replacing and which will encourage modern penology, even just for "over-night" prisoners.

Your Herald

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Tree in Dispute

Watson had a special affection for the old shade tree growing on the boundary line of his property. But Jenks, the man next door, considered it an eyesore. One day Jenks announced he was going to cut away half of the tree, trunk and all.

Watson hastened into court for a stop order. But at the hearing, Jenks stood firm.

"I own everything up to the boundary line," he said, "including half of the tree. If his half cannot survive on its own, that is his problem—not mine."

Nevertheless, the court ordered Jenks to leave the tree alone. The judge said the tree was owned not in two separate halves but jointly, with neither owner entitled to destroy the property rights of the other.

This is the law's usual attitude toward natural growth that happens to be located on a boundary line. Based on simple practicality, the rule generally applies not only to trees but to hedges as well.

Still, the rule may bend with circumstances. Take this situation:

A boundary line hedge between two homes began to get top-heavy. One of the home owners rented an electric shear and cut the hedge down low. His neighbor promptly filed suit for damages, accusing him of cutting away part of their jointly-owned property without permission.

But the court, unable to discern any damage, turned down the neighbor's claim. The court pointed out that the hedge, trimmed down, was actually in better condition than it had been before.

Occasionally even a total destruction by one of the co-owners may be justified. In another case, the roots of an old poplar had split the foundation of one of the adjacent houses. Overhead, the branches had grown dangerously brittle. Lopping off the roots and branches, according to a tree expert, could well cause the whole tree to topple over.

This time, a court ruled that the tree could be destroyed altogether. The court said the victim of a nuisance has the right to abate it—and this tree could fairly be classified as a nuisance.

1972-73 Budget Will Need A $643.5 Million Tax Bill

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

Legislative Budget Board staff members added little to the season's cheer for legislators with their estimate that even a rigidly - conservative 1972-73 budget will require a $643.5 million tax bill.

Lawmakers, who report for the biennial session in January, must pass a $51.4 million emergency finance measure to head off a 20 per cent welfare cut in April, the Budget Board warned. And early approval of a constitutional amendment to raise the $80 million welfare ceiling also will be necessary to avert ~~enventual~~ sharp reductions in aid to the needy.

Board stressed that its budget compilations allow for no new construction funds for any purpose (not even new colleges already authorized) and no money for state employee salary raises.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes called the situation a "crisis."

Senate leaders turned down a no-tax plan advanced by a Houston group. This plan would freeze teacher salaries, raise college tuitions, abandon general revenue appropriations for farmto-market roads, change school finance formulas and divert a portion of the permanent school fund to current spending. Such proposals, said Barnes, "would get about two votes."

Sharp growth in welfare rolls and long-range educational programs already enacted are primary reasons cited for the record tax need.

BOUNDARY HEARING SET

Texas - Louisiana boundary dispute will be argued before Judge Robert Van Pelt in the U.S. Supreme Court in Houston on December 16.

Judge Van Pelt is a senior federal district judge for Nebraska.

Texas claims that midstream of the Sabine River, Sabine Lake and Sabine Pass were established in 1848 by Congress as the dividing line. Louisiana claims the entire river.

Millions in oil lease income are at stake.

TEXAS FOURTH

Texas now is the fourth most-populous state in the nation. New census figures show 11,298,787 population which includes 102,057 Texans abroad.

California still is No. 1, with more than 20 million. New York remains second with 18.2 million and Pennsylvania third with nearly 11.9 million.

Texas barely nosed out Illinois for fourth. Illinois' head count is 11.184 million.

TURKEY PRICES HOLDING

Price of the Christmas turkey in Texas will be about the same, or maybe even less than in 1969, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White figures.

A wire service story on November 25 stated that prices of Thanksgiving turkeys over the nation were nine per cent higher this year, but White said this was not true in Texas.

White based this statement on a survey of prices in leading markets of San Antonio, Houston and Dallas.

About 19 per cent more turkeys were produced in Texas this year than in 1969.

HEARING SET

A December 21 public hearing will be held in the McAllen civic center on proposed piece rates for handharvesting of agricultural commodities.

Rate system, under the state Minimum Wage Law, will be based on average worker productivity by commodity and will become effective on February 1.

A comprehensive statewide field study of actual worker productivity has been under way since September, 1969. Proposed rates will be recommended at the December hearing for harvesting citrus fruit and all Texas vegetables.

A later hearing will take up piece rates for harvesting pecans, blackberries and cotton, plus a few fruits and vegetables produced in limited quantities.

COURTS SPEAK

Reversing itself, the State Supreme Court upheld a $10,000 libel judgement against a Denton publishing company as the result of an erroneous report (which the Court said was not privileged). Story reportedly stated that a local developer was bankrupt. In an earlier opinion, the High Court, by a 5 to 4 vote, had held for the newspaper publisher. Newspaper had quoted a statement made at a city council meeting but through oversight did not say who made the statement.

In other cases the High Court:

- Set arguments for January 20 over the validity of the incorporation of West Lake Hills, an Austin suburb.
- Upheld a lower court decision invalidating a Comanche County local option election to permit liquor sale.
- Affirmed the right of a Fort Worth school district to prevent students from belonging to secret clubs.

Court of Criminal Appeals, in Smith and Tarrant County cases, found that a 1969 legislative act wiped out part of the state law against ex - convicts carrying concealed weapons.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editar:

According to an article I read in a newspaper last night scientists are making steady progress in converting the 48 billion bottles thrown away every year by Americans into something useful. They're making what they call "glassphalt" out of them.

They grind them up, mix them with other ingredients, and then make paved highways out of the stuff.

This is a fine idea but as usual scientists are going about it the hard way, just as they've been spending years perfecting a computerized, automatic meter reader to eliminate somebody's having to come around every month to see how much water or gas or electricity you've used, when what I'd like to see them do is eliminate the meter altogether.

Now in regard to grinding glass bottles up into paving material, that's fine, but under the system the scientists are working on the bottles have to be first used, thrown away, picked up, carried to a central plant, ground up, and then hauled back to wherever a highway is being paved.

This is a lot of wasted effort. Here we've all gone to the trouble of throwing the bottles along our own roads in the first place, so why can't the scientists figure out a machine that'll convert them into pavement right where they are?

It seems unfair to have the bottles we throw out here in Milam County wind up maybe as pavement in Bell County. We're just as much entitled to good roads as they are.

If they get this newer, improved machine invented there's just one other thing that'd need to be done.

We'd need a vast, nation-wide training program to improve people's aim.

Like it is, some people are such poor shots and care so little about good roads they miss the right-of-way altogether and their bottles wind up in my pasture. I don't need a paved road there. Too many people visit me like it is.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

BILL STOPS FOOD STAMPS TO STRIKERS

SENATOR STROM THURMOND (S.C.) ". . . In 1964 it was brought to the Senate's attention that the Food Stamp Act of 1964 was too broadly written, for it allowed certain undeserving individuals to receive welfare benefits under it. Since 1964 the unfairness of providing public assistance to union strikers in the form of Federal food stamps has been pointed out on more than one occasion.

"The gross unfairness and totally ridiculous result of the Food Stamp Act in this regard is now clearly evident to all.

"When 343,210 General Motors employees, who were members of the United Auto Workers Union, went on strike a few months ago, many of them lined up at Welfare offices and demanded food stamps, claiming that they were no longer able to provide "a nutritionally adequate diet" for themselves and their families. . .

"The reason was, of course, that these union workers simply refused to work and voluntarily walked off their jobs. I do not question, nor ask this Senate body to question, the right of these strikers or the right of any man to decide not to work. What I do question is, however, whether the citizens of this country should be required to subsidize the income of an individual who voluntarily decides to quit work and go on strike.

"If a man is willing to work but is unable to find a job, then I believe in assisting him. However, if an individual simply refuses to work when there are plenty of jobs open to him, then I have no sympathy for him. . .

"Under the law as it is presently written, the Department of Agriculture had no alternative but to authorize the issuance of food stamps to these individuals. In my judgement this amounted to a terrible economic crime perpetrated on the American taxpayer who, through his taxes, was actually forced to contribute his hard - earned dollars to the purchase of food stamps for these individuals who refused to work...

"The strikers in one State were drawing so many stamps that the Federal Government had difficulty keeping the stamps printed and supplied to the local agencies. . .

"Since these strikers were being fed at the taxpayers expense, there was little incentive to go back to work...

"I consider the events involving the issuance of food stamps to union strikers an outrage. This practice should be discontinued. In order to accomplish this goal, I introduce a bill (S.4505) to amend the Food Stamp Act of 1964 which will make strikers ineligible to participate in Federal food stamp programs. . ."

Quality Water Meeting Concerns Livestock Men

By J. D. Moore

Quality water: Should Milam County be concerned about quality water? A meeting to discuss quality water is set for 2 p.m. Friday, December 11, in the Conference Room of the First National Bank in Cameron.

The Quality Water meeting is open to the public. Swine, beef, and dairy producers are urged to attend.

Joe Morgan, Texas Water Quality Board Representative from Waco will discuss requirements livestock and dairy producers will be asked to meet in the future to prevent water pollution from livestock operations.

Jack Jones, Rural Development Specialist from A&M, will discuss "An Overview of the Water Pollution Problem."

Environmental pollution is the big topic today on the street corner, in our schools, at the office, out on the farm - even in the White House.

Did something happen in the last year or so to suddenly cause "Pollution"? Of course not. In general terms, environmental pollution might be defined as any unfavorable alteration of our surroundings.

Pollution is at least as old as man himself. However, its probably true that some factors in the environmental situation have become much more obvious during recent years.

In too many cases, pollution has been the by-product of progress. As our technology has increased, our capacity to pollute the air, land, and water has also grown.

What ever the source of our environmental ills, the solution will lie in broad-purpose thinking that recognize all of the cause and effect relationship involved in our total environmental balance.

It's up to every one of us to seek a better world, and we can start by seeking out the real facts involved and making our own effort to do something about it in a logical, rational way.

Today's Pork Has Less Fat, More Protein

COLLEGE STATION

The type of pork that is produced and eaten today has 22 percent more protein than formerly, 57 percent less fat and 36 percent fewer calories.

This is due to the selection program initiated during the middle 1950s by pork producers, Dr. William B. Thomas, Extension swine specialist, notes, adding that they had hopes that this would eventually lead to the high quality pork products that are now available to the consumer.

"Up until the mid 50s little had been done by producers to breed pigs that had a maximum amount of lean meat and minimum fat," he explained. "You see, pigs inherit to a degree their muscling and fat from their parents, the boar and sow.

"Pork producers by selecting superior breeding stock, boars and gilts with a minimum amount of fat and maximum lean, have been able to improve the quality of pork available to consumers at their local meat market."

An average serving of cooked prok (3 1/2 ounces) will provide an adult male with 40 percent of his daily protein needs, 69 percent of his thiamine (Vitamine B1) requirement, sufficient amounts of other vitamins and minerals, especially iron, and less than eight percent of his daily calorie intake. These figures are based on the daily allowance of nutrients recommended by the National Research Council.

"There is a greater supply of high quality pork today than ever before," Dr. Thomas said. "This holiday season, help reduce the level of supplies by serving pork to your family and friends," suggests the specialist.

FARM NEWS

CONFERENCE ON CHILDREN

Texas 4-H Club members will be represented at the Dec. 13-18 White House Conference on Children by Stella Rose, Brackettville and Randy Miller, Edinburg.

DON'T BLAME FARMER

It's twice as costly to market farm products as to produce the food in the first place, surprising though this may seem. When they left the farm, food raw materials produced by U.S. farmers in 1969 were worth $32 billion. By the time they reached the consumer, their cost had soared to $96 billion.

ALERT ON GRASS FIRES

The dry and windy weather has created conditions very favorable for grass fires. Hunters are urged to be doubly careful with fires while in the field.

HOW TO BUY BEEF

To get the most from beef purchases, W. W. Bailey, Extension livestock and meat specialist, suggests that buyers use both the U.S.D.A. quality grades, which have been in use for many years, and the newer yield grades. The quaility grades indicate the palatability of the meat while the yield grades indicate the yield of meat that can be used for cooking.

Junior Livestock Show Set Jan. 16

By Danny Phillips, ACAA

January 16 has been set as the date for the annual Milam County Junior Livestock Show. The Board of Directors met November 17 and started plans for this year's show.

The show this year promises to be a good one with many entries from all parts of the county expected. The rules for the show remain the same as last year.

The classes for the show are as follows: market hogs, unbred, gilts, bred gilts, steers, junior breeding beef females, dairy females, fat lambs, and breeding ewes.

The entry fees for the show are: sheep, hogs, rabbits - $1.00 and cattle - $2.00.

The show is open to 4-H members and vocational agricultural students in the county. Entry blanks will be available to the teachers in a few days. 4-H'ers will meet later to fill out their entry blanks.

OTHER MAJOR SHOWS

The Ft. Worth Livestock Show will be held January 29 - Feb. 7.

Milam 4-H'ers entering the show include Juliann McDaniel with 3 Southdown lambs and 2 Hampshire lambs; Lynn Laywell with 2 Hampshire lambs; Blane Laywell with a Dorset lamb and a Charolais Hereford Steer for the carcass contest.

Competing in the San Antonio Show will be Sandra Cobb who will exhibit 2 crossbred barrows. Gary Cobb and Gery Hollas will also show crossbred barrows.

Juliann McDaniel will show 3 Southdowns and 2 Hampshire lambs. Two of these lambs will be carcassed and compete in the Quality Lamb contest.

Mark Clark of Rockdale will show a Brangus heifer.

The final large show of the year will be the Houston Livestock Show. Juliann McDaniel will exhibit 5 lambs. Lynn Laywell will show 2 lambs and Della and Blane will each exhibit 2 steers.

Good luck to all of these young 4-H'ers.

ASCS

By Alva E. Sanders

Peanut allotment notices for the 1971 crop were mailed to producers on December 2, 1970.

A national peanut allotment of 1,610,000 acres -- the same as for 1970 -- has been announced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

In general, peanut growers who grew their full allotments in 1970 received about the same acreage allotments this year.

Peanut growers who comply with their allotments will be eligible for price support loans at a rate to be announced later.

Marketing penalties will apply to peanuts produced in excess of allotment.

By law the Secretary of Agriculture is required to proclaim a national marketing quota and a national acreage allotment for peanuts each year.

On the basis of the prospective need for peanuts for food uses, the national marketing quota would be 1,021,000 tons, which would result in a national acreage allotment of 1,218,031 acres.

However, the law provides for a minimum national allotment of 1,610,000 acres, so the marketing quota has been set at 1,533,650 tons, which is the amount determined sufficient to provide for the minimum national allotment.

Peanut marketing quotas have been in effect since 1949. Growers vote at least every three years on whether or not to accept marketing quotas.

NATIONAL CONFERENCE ON FARM PROGRAMS FOR THE 70's

A national conference on farm programs for the 70's has been called in Washington, D.C., November 30 through December 3, by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, farm program agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The last referendum was held in December, 1968, when 96.9 percent of growers voting favored marketing quotas for the 1969, 1970, and 1971 crops.

Attending from Texas will be the members of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee and State office staff members.

High-ranking government officials will address the conference on a variety of current topics, with interest expected to center on new farm legislation which now awaits the signature of President Nixon.

Broad, long-range agricultural questions also will be discussed by Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin, Under Sec. J. Phil Campbell, Asst. Sec. Clarence D. Palmby, ASCS Administrator Kenneth E. Frick and other USDA officials.

On the opening day of the National Farm Program Conference, Oklahoma Cong. Page Belcher of the House Agriculture Committee will be luncheon speaker. A featured speaker that afternoon will be Atty. Gen. John Mitchell.

"Most of the conference will be devoted to information on the new farm legislation," ASC Committee Chairman Danklefs said. "The legislation is a significant change in American farm policy and programs. It is designed to give farmers more opportunity to manage production for market demand and increase farm income. It provides farmers more freedom in management of their farms than any previous farm Program legislation."

He stated it was his understanding that producers could look forward to learning details of the new farm programs in the near future. "The National Conference on Farm Programs for the 70's is the first step in acquainting farmers with the new directions of farm programs," Danklefs said.

T-E
LIQUID FEED SUPPLEMENT

FEEDING T-E LIQUID FEED IS SO EASY
IT COULD SPOIL YOU

When you get out of bed in the morning, your supplement feeding chores may already be done for days to come—if you're feeding T-E Liquid Feed Supplement.

Because one refill of the free-choice range feeders will take care of your herd for about ten days, using a T-E feeder for every 75 to 100 head. All you have to do is make the rounds, once every ten days, stopping at each feeder long enough to watch it fill up.

T-E Liquid Feed Supplement cuts out most of the time, labor and equipment connected with dry supplements . . . saves you money.

The proof of T-E Liquid Feed Supplement is in the extra quality your animals will show—extra energy, extra good health, extra gain. And that means extra profits from your range feeding program.

T-E Liquid Feed Supplement along with adequate roughage, minerals and water, is the easy way to be sure your animals are getting the protein, phosphorus, vitamins and trace minerals they need for energy and growth.

Of course, you do have to get out of bed—at least every ten days. Otherwise it could spoil you.

T-E LIQUID FEED SUPPLEMENT
IS MADE FROM A PATENTED FORMULA

The basic ingredients of T-E Liquid Feed Supplement are urea, phosphoric acid, molasses, vitamins A, D and E and trace minerals. The urea is chemically inhibited (by the patented formulation with phosphoric acid and molasses) to control the release of nitrogen and pace its conversion into protein for more efficient use by the animal.

Christmas Food Gifts Take Special Handling

By Christine Laws Co. Home Demonstration Agent

Surprise packages from home, filled with cookies, candies and other lip-smacking delights, will arrive fresh and tasty if mailed with special care.

The first step in sending food packages is choosing recipes that stay fresh for a relatively long time. If cookies are too rich, they will probably crumble or turn rancid. Moist sheet cookies cut into bars, and flat, moist individual cookies are the best travel selections. Cookies flavored with honey and fruit improve with age.

Other food items suitable for mailing are fruit cakes, candies, pies, canned meats, pickles and relishes.

Food items should be wrapped with moisture-proof cellophane and aluminum foil, to prevent drying out and keep paperboard cartons from absorbing food oils. Before wrapping allow cookies to cool then wrap several flat ones together in a piece of cellaphane or foil. Bar cookies should be wrapped individually.

After wrapping, pack cookies snugly in a heavy box or tin, stuffing crumpled tissue or newspaper into all corners and spaces, and separating the layers with more paper or with popcorn. If any space remains between the top layer of cookies and the box lid, fill with paper or popcorn.

Fit the box lid down snugly and seal with cellophane tape around the edges. Take larger pieces of moisture-proof cellophane and overwrap the entire carton or tin, sealing the edges with a warm iron or with cellophane tape.

Encase the wrapped tin or box in corrugated paper, then wrap again in heavy brown wrapping paper. If sealing the outside wrapping with tape, parcel post labels must be included to indicate the packages may be opened for postal inspection if necessary.

Put one label on the top of the package and another on the bottom. Print or type the name and address of both the receiver and mailer of the package on both the labels and the wrapper itself. Thus, if the labels should come off during shipment, the address will still be available.

Tie the package securely with several rounds of sturdy twine. Mark "This side up" and "fragile" on top of the box.

Mail the package as soon as it is wrapped.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY - Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lorenz of Buckholts observed their 50th wedding anniversary Friday, December 4. They were married at the Ben Arnold Lutheran Church in 1920 and have four children, Mrs. Milton Valka, Mrs. Herman Stoebner, Melvin Lorenz and Raymond Lorenz, and six grandchildren.

Couples Host Pre Season Yule Party

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Baskin, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bush, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Holder and Mr. and Mrs. Bassel Wilson hosted a prechristmas supper in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Sunday night, Dec. 6, from 5 to 9.

A buffet supper of Danish ham, smoked turkey, salads, assorted relish trays and other Christmas treats were served.

Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Blake Birdwell and Miss Beatrice Perry of Belton, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Copeland, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Wolf, Dr. and Mrs. Tyler Cagel, Mrs. Effie Hoover, Mr. Hugh Cox and Dr. and Mrs. James Wilson of Temple.

Also: Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Harrison of Killeen, Mr. and Mrs. John Kuehlman and Mrs. Ruby Lee Gray of Holland, Miss Mildred Thornton and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Baskin Jr. of Cameron.

An evening of musical fun including organ and piano music and singing of Christmas carols was enjoyed.

The Wilson home was attractively decorated in the traditional holiday decor.

Gift Suggestions For One Who Has 'Everything'

Still wondering about a Christmas gift for a friend that has everything? Consider a tree or shrub for the garden, or a houseplant.

New homeowners would especially welcome a tree or shrub gift. Select a plant that can be used in the home landscape design. It should also be native or adapted to the area.

Some of the ornamental plants that would make a good gift include the many varieties of holly, dodar cedar, pyracantha, elaeagnus, magnolia and pine. The local nurseryman or florist can help you in the final selction.

If you are considering a house plant gift, Extension specialists suggest such foliage plants as philodendron, Enlish fvy, Christmas cactus, or even a potted azalea or camellia.

Other plants popular for indoor landscaping, particularly during the holiday season, are poinsettia, Jerusalem cherry, Christmas pepper and chrysanthemum.

You can easily make an attractive package from a house plant or tree. Just wrap the base of the plant with Christmas paper and tie with a bright colored bow.

While you are plant shopping, you may want to select a living Christmas present for your own family. A balled and burlapped, or container - grown evergreen can be used as the family Christmas tree.

If care is taken to prevent the ball of soil from drying out, it can be placed in the home landscape after the holiday season.

HOLIDAY SLEEPWEAR: AN OLD-FASHIONED STORY

NEW YORK (ED)—IT WON'T BE A HO-HUM CHRISTMAS—if you're wearing this to sleep! An old-fashioned nightgown that takes you back to the era of home-made pies and home-grown berries, when everything was done by hand. This "Prairie" gown of Kodel polyester and cotton from Raymodes brings back sweet nostalgia and a longing for things past. Apron front with eyelet trim, yellow rickrack and a grosgrain belt complete the look.

A BAUBLE OF A SLEEPSHIRT—when the tree is trimmed and the stockings are hung, slumber off in this Kodel polyester and rayon sleepshirt from Jeri Morton that will stay as crisp as a peppermint stick thanks to its easy wash and wear properties. What better a present to Mom than the promise of permanent press!

A PERIOD PIECE — is this lovely Victorian gown of Kodel polyester rayon from Fashions by Juli. Just the thing for snuggling into after a long, full day of festivities 'round the hearth. Ruffled, white tucked front and cuffs, with velvet sash, it's a breeze to launder.

MAKE IT A PIONEER CHRISTMAS—in this ensemble (far right) called "The Forty-niners and Clementine" from Mr. Jac. The Kodel polyester and cotton empire gown is tucked, crocheted, buttoned and bowed under a matching robe that's quilted with crochet lace trim and crewel work lining for that homespun look. Thanks to Kodel, it's all washable.

'Holiday Splendor' Is Garden Club Program

Mrs. James Camp, Mrs. George Hollas and Mrs. Dan McDaniel were hostesses for the Fleur de lis Garden Club Christmas meeting at the Camp home Monday night.

Theme for the meeting was 'Holiday Splendor'. Each club member displayed an original Christmas decoration and explained how it was made. The decorations included wreaths, door decorations, stockings, murals, table centerpieces and tree ornaments.

Among the unusual decorations were tree ornaments made of egg shells and a door wreath of sweetgum balls and magnolia leaves. Mrs. Dan McDaniel gave directions for making a minature Christmas tree of chicken wire and sweet gum balls and Mrs. D. R. Dodson displayed a door wreath made of various flowers, leaves and ornaments all sprayed gold and enhanced with a green velvet ribbon and white dove.

During the business meeting plans were made for the club to host a Christmas party for Special Education children on December 22. Mrs. Delbert Burlison is chairman of arrangements.

Linda Jones and Nina Mae Green, members of the Yoe High Honor Society, spoke to the club about writing letters in support of better conditions for American prisoners of War.

Following the program and meeting, hostesses served refreshments of fruit cake, cookies and punch to the 20 members and 3 guests, Mrs. Bernay Dusek, Miss Jones and Miss Green.

Club Plans Yule Party

The Business and Professional Womens Club of Cameron met Monday night at the clubhouse, Milam and 4th Sts. Plans were made for the Christmas party.

Mrs. Sam Houston, Club president, announced that the annual party would be a no-host covered dish supper on Thursday, December 17.

Following the meeting members were served a sandwich plate, cake and punch by the hostess, Mrs. Willie Faulkner.

DKG Plans Yule Party

Beta Nu and Beta Beta chapters of Delta Kappa Gamma will meet jointly for a Christmas party Saturday, December 12.

The annual meeting will be at 10:30 a.m. at Hamilton House, 1521 Austin Aven., Waco.

To Mr. and Mrs. Henry Louis Taylor, 1301 N. Austin, Cameron, a gril, Annisa Renee, 5 pounds 15 ounces, born 3:45 a.m. December 8 at St. Edward Hospital.

To Mr. and Mrs. Roman Razo, Jr., 836 W. Bell St., Rockdale, a girl, Vernoica Lynn, 6 pounds 14 ounces, born 6:45 a.m. December 5 at St. Edward Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Doskocil announce the arrival of a baby girl, Wendy Kristine, 6 pounds, born Nov. 23 at 5:12 a.m. at Halbert-Vardemann Hospital in Rosebud. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Z. T. James of Rosebud and Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Doskocil of Westphalia.

Mrs. Kirk Is Shower Honoree

Mrs. Joe Glenn Kirk was honored with a stork shower Saturday afternoon, December 5, at the home of Mrs. Edward Dach of Belmena.

Coffee, cake, and punch were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Ray Lindamon and Mrs. Dach.

Special guests included mothers, Mrs. Joe Bailey Kirk and Mrs. Katherine Taylor and grandmothers, Mrs. Mollie Henson and Mrs. Otto Koenig.

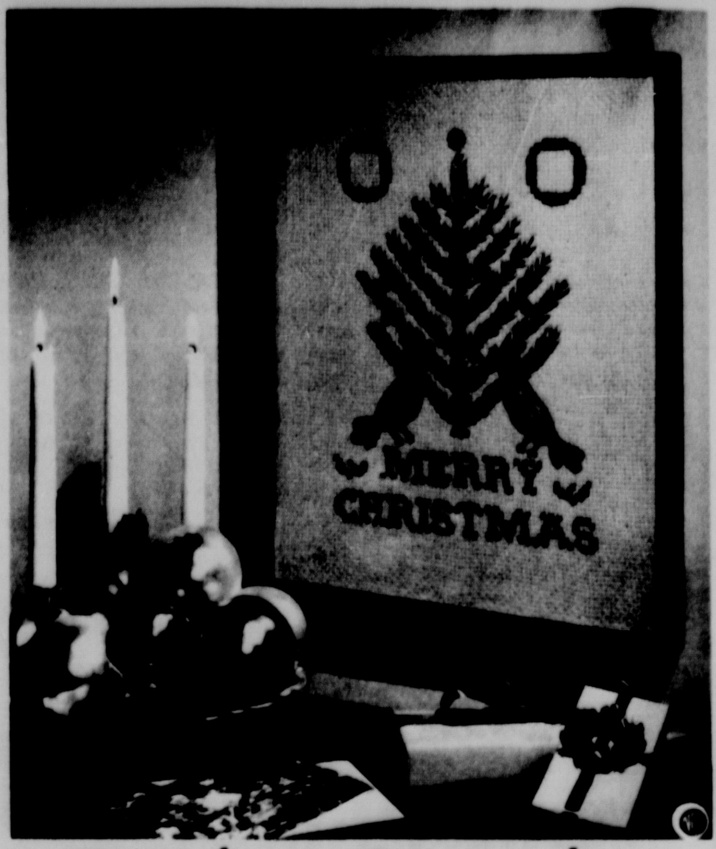
Bride Feted At Shower

A shower honored Mrs. Jimmy Halpain Sunday, November 29, at the home of Mrs. Leroy Vansa Mrs. Halpain is the former Rosalee Vansa.

Miss Diane Vansa registered at the afternoon party. Special guests were Mrs. Louis Vansa Sr., mother of the bride, Mrs. Annie Vansa, grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. Margaret Halpain, mother of the groom.

Yellow cake squares, mints, nuts, punch and coffee were served to the 40 guests by hostesses, Mrs. Bobby Paholec, Mrs. Chester E. Hays, Mrs. Louis Vansa, Jr., and Mrs. Leroy Vansa.

The Halpains are making their home in Mexia.



Stitch A Sampler

Holiday decorations that mean the most are the ones made by a member of the family or a friend. Used year after year, they become a part of the traditional observance of the Christmas season.

One that will add to your own decorations or make a handsome gift is a holiday needlework sampler.

Samplers have a history dating back to Colonial days, and mention of them can even be found in wills and literature of the early 1500's. They were originally done by young girls learning to sew. They made them for practice or to show their skill.

The holiday sampler above, an original design by Coats & Clark, is worked on cotton monk's cloth with six-strand cotton embroidery floss. The design calls for nine basic embroidery stitches, and the finished size of the sampler is 15 by 19¼". Easy for beginners, it's an inexpensive but rewarding project for holiday needlework.

Free pattern for the sampler can be obtained by sending a stamped self-addressed envelope to the National Cotton Council, Dept. PR, P. O. Box 12285, Memphis, Tennessee.

Holiday Meals Planned For The Busy Hostess

With the holiday season approaching, time is at a premium, and hours previously spent in the kitchen can often be put to good use in other ways. But there is no need to sacrifice a taste-tempting dinner in the holiday rush.

With a little planning, an elegant meat dish, appetizing vegetables, taste-tempting rice and luscious dessert can all be prepared at the same time in the oven -- often in only a little more than an hour.

For your holiday dinner feast in the busy days ahead, we suggest baked herb chicken, baked carrots, rice, a relish tray, assorted breads and, for dessert, lemon apple crisp. The main dish vegetable, rice and dessert can all be cooked in the oven at 325 for 1 1/4 hours.

BAKED HERB CHICKEN

1 (2-2 1/2 lb.) frying chicken, quartered
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1/4 teaspoon basil, crushed
1/4 teaspoon oregano, crushed
1 (10 1/2 oz.) can cream of mushroom soup

Place quartered chicken in 2-quart baking dish. Combine remaining incredients and spoon over chicken. Cover and bake in 325 oven for 1 1/4 hours, or until chicken is tender. Makes 4 servings.

BAKED CARROTS

1 pound carrots
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons butter

Pare carrots and halve or quarter, depending on size. Place in buttered 1-quart casserole, sprinkle with combined salt and pepper and dot with butter. Cover, place in 325 oven and bake for 1 1/4 hours or until carrots are tender. Makes 4 servings.

LEMON APPLE CRISP

7 large tart apples
1 teaspoon lemon rind
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup sifted flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup butter or margarine

Core and slice apples into 8x8x2 inch pan. Sprinkle with grated lemon rind and lemon juice. Mix flour, salt, sugar and cinnamon. Cut in butter or margarine until mixture is crumbly. Spread over apples. Bake in 325 oven 1 1/4 hours. Serve hot or cold; with or without whipped cream. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

SAVORY RICE

2 chicken bouillon cubes
2 cups hot water
1 cup brown or white rice (not quick cooking variety)
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1/2 cup chopped parsley (use scissors for chopping)
1/2 cup diced celery (try cutting on the diagonal)

Dissolve bouillon cubes in the hot water. Add to remaining ingredients and combine. Pour into greased 1 1/2 quart casserole. Cover and bake for 1 1/4 hours in 325 oven. Makes about 6 servings.

Library Fund Drive At $1000

About $1,000 has been contributed thus far to the Friends of the Library 1970-71 funding program, according to Mrs. Judy McDaniel, fund drive chairman.

Contributors total 136 thus far, she said, including five honorary contributions of $25 each, five supporting at $15 each, 44 sustaining memberships at $10 each, 69 individual memberships at $5 and 13 students at $1 each.

Most of the Friends contributions go to library book purchases and other basic operations. Friends use about 10 percent of the goal to host cultural programs.

With Cold Iron
Catfish Brand'n, Podnuh

AUSTIN
It's easier to brand a catfish than a yearling bull, podnuh.

Biologists of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department are branding channel catfish in an experimental program to see if the technique should be used more extensively in fishery research.

The catfish branding technique, as one might expect, is considerably different from that used by a cowhand to mark a rancher's stock.

For one thing, the fish are branded with a cold copper instrument rather than a hot iron. The biologists hold the branding tool, which has been super-cooled in a dry ice and acetone solution, on the fishes' sides for one second.

The resulting mark is a dark pattern which grows with the fish and usually remains visible well over a year.

Biologist David L. Pritchard, who conducted an 18-month study into various methods of fish marking, said in a recent report that the cold-branding practice has no apparent ill effect on catfish. Some branded fish, in fact, showed a higher growth rate during some periods than tagged individuals in the same test ponds.

Freeze branded fish are less prone to infection than fish marked with conventional tags.

Another method marking which has been the subject of research lately is the practice of mass-marking with fluorescent spray. A sand blasting gun is used to force the pigment into the fishes' dermal tissue.

However, most experimentation with the spray has been with fingerling - sized fish, while branding is used generally on larger individuals.

The cost of branding, computed over a long period of time, is comparable to tagging, Pritchard found, although the branding operation sometimes takes a bit more manpower for a given number of fish.

The cost of the two methods is about equal if individual marks are not necessary, Pritchard said.

Cold brands could be an important tool for individually marking catfish for fish culture studies, in Pritchard's opinion.

Yoemen Win 2 In Weekend Play

The Yoemen are developing a strong 4-2 pre-district record following two more wins and one loss in weekend play at LaVega and at home.

The Yoemen traveled to Taylor Tuesday night for a rematch with one of two teams which have defeated them.

Monday night, the Yoemen were never headed in a 61-51 win over AAA Brenham, whose height and heft never quite caught the smaller Yoemen in a foul-laden contest.

Brashear hit 18 points for high point honors, closely followed by Jerry Richardson with 16, of which 12 were at foul line. Guard Ken McLerran hit 13. Three Brenham players fouled out, one Cameron.

Shot percentage was about 35 percent for the game.

The Yoe junior varsity won 64-45, Jack Chubb hitting 25 and the Yoe frosh won 42-27, David Hollas hitting 19. The freshman club continues undefeated.

At LaVega last Saturday, the Yoemen lost a first round game to the host team, 65-51, Brashear hitting 19 points and Johnson 8.

But the Yoemen took third place in the tourney with a 55-35 win over AAA Brownwood, Brashear and McLerran sharing Yoe scoring honors with 15 points each. McLerran hit 7 field goals.

Cameron point production in the Brenham contest was even throughout the game, while Brenham fell behind in the first quarter 10 points, the margin that beat them. Twice, Yoemen hit field goals as the buzzer was sounding, one ending the second quarter, one the third.

Scoring by quarters of the three games:

	1st	2nd	3rd	4th	Total
Yoe	14	9	10	18	51
LaVega	16	14	26	9	65
Yoe	11	9	13	22	55
Brownwood	7	13	10	5	35
Yoe	18	15	14	14	61
Brenham	8	17	15	11	51

He Shares His Belief

When Steve Spurrier was ten, he came home from school one day and said to his older brother, Graham: "Graham, our school nurse said the most important thing in the world is good health. But that's not right. The most important thing is to believe in God and Jesus Christ."

Steve Spurrier, the 1966 Heisman Trophy winner, now playing pro football with the San Francisco 49ers, has carried his simple faith all through his illustrious athletic career. Son of a Presbyterian minister, Steve prayed when he played at Science Hill High School in Johnson City, Tennessee. Not to win, but for courage and strength to do his best.

Secretary of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes on campus at the University of Florida, Steve believed and prayed when he led the 'Gators to multiple "come from behind" victories over conference rivals and post-bowl opponents.

It's always too soon to quit, when you believe in your fellowman and yourself," says Steve in his book by that title. All American for two years and heralded as the nation's best quarterback in 1966, Steve Spurrier learned early in life that self control helps you play your best and never give up till the last gun goes off.

Now facing tougher tests in pro ball, Steve still passes, punts, and prays with the same basic belief in Christian ideals. "I can never be thankful enough for the Christian home into which I was born," he says. "I only hope that my own home will influence my children as much as my parents' home influenced me".

You too, can share the Steve Spurrier belief, if only you will, at your own place of worship this week.

Kubiak To Appear At Rate Increase Hearings

Rep. Dan Kubiak said he will be among those appearing at the insurance rate hearings in Dallas on December 16 and in Houston on December 17, to work for defeat of the increase in car insurance rates.

"We in the legislature had anticipated this (the request by the Insurance Commission for an increase) for nearly a year," he said in his newsletter, "but our work in trying to prevent this drastic increase has just begun.

"Let me say that this is not the work of our local insurance people, who would like to see the rates lower, but is the work of the huge companies who dominate the insurance field," he continued.

Rep. Kubiak said he has researched the companies' claim that they need the increase to "stay solvent."

He said, "The casualty insurance industry has never had a year in which it lost money on its total operation. . A company, according to records in our fiels in Rockdale, invests most of its income in stocks and bonds and its main profit does not come from selling insurance, but from investment income."

Those who oppose the recommendation for rate increases should write Durwood Manford, State Insurance Board, Austin, Texas 78711, Rep. Kubiak suggested.

Mrs. Hollas' Grandson Receives Grid Honors

Robert G. Foster Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Foster Sr. of Belleville, Ill., was named as defense end on the first team of Independent Schools in the Metro East Area of St. Louis, Mo.

Robert is the grandson of Mrs. Joe Hollas of Cameron, and is a senior at O'Fallon Township High.

He was also named to the second team for all schools in the Metro East Area, which consists of 20 schools.

Library Board Hears Report

Directors of the Cameron Public Library met Monday night and heard a financial report by Library Treasurer Stewart J. Perkins.

Perkins reported $65 spent on new books in November and a balance in the book fund of $693.

Hearne To Dedicate New Fire Station

The Hearne Volunteer Fire Department is extending an invitation to the public to attend the dedication and open house of the new fire station Saturday, December 12.

The dedication will be at 1 p.m., with open house to follow until 5 p.m.

Adrian A. Richter, vice president of the Department, said everyone is invited to attend.

Christmas Program Sun.

A special Christmas music program will be presented by the choir of the First United Methodist Church of Cameron at 7 p.m. Sunday, December 13, in the church sanctuary.

Mrs. Tommy Corley is director for the Christmas program and Mrs. Hilliard Thomas will be organist. Soloists will be Mrs. Corley, John Henderson, Jr., Jack Terhune, Mrs. Ann Gaskey, Mrs. Jimmy Woodum, Don Humble, Miss Jan Stewart and Miss Marion Thomas.

Dams, Reservoirs Versus Ecology

AUSTIN

Just the mention of a reservoir in water-short Texas often brings cries of joy from around the state.

A reservoir means water saved great recreational opportunities in the way of boating and fishing, and increases in property values for those owning shoreline property.

But as more and more of Texas reservoirs are built, biologists, ecologists and wildlife specialists are taking second looks at reservoirs to assess their impact on wildlife ecology.

R. G. Mauermann, deputy director of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, says the well-known law of physics which states "for every action there is an opposite and equal reaction," can be applies to environmental problems too.

"In the environmental sense," says Mauermann, "we can be sure that whenever the environment is altered by any action of man or nature, changes from the known normally will follow. Because nature and the environment are dynamic, gains made in one direction are usually made at the expense of something else."

The old belief that fish and wildlife resources will be enhanced by construction of reservoirs is not necessarily so. It is possible, he warns, that fish and wildlife will be adversely influenced by the construction of storage reservoirs or conveyance structures, such as canals, for the distribution of water to areas of water shortage.

Because reservoirs inundate large areas of bottomland, the state loses thousands of acres of prime, or potentially prime, habitat for deer, turkeys, squirrels and furbearers. With the present reservoirs and those planned for the future, this represents a tremendous loss of first-rate, irreplaceable habitat.

Unless there is suitable unoccupied habitat into which the displaced wildlife can move, it will not survive.

Any crowding, according to Mauermann, will not be beneficial for either the wildlife or its habitat.

Fish benefit only temporarily when irreplaceable stream habitat is inundated, creating open water habitat.

"Stream species," Mauermann said, "which are left above the dam of a newly-inundated reservoir basin, usually find very favorable conditions because their numbers are few compared with reservoir water volume. Because their environment is suddenly expanded, game fish populations explode and, for a while, flourish."

But biologists after taking a long term view of the situation have seen that the fish which ultimately dominate the reservoir fish populations are those naturally best adapted to the newly-created open water habitat. These are what most persons consider "rough fish" such as carp, buffalo, shad and suckers.

Taylor Crushes Yoemen

The Yoemen came home Tuesday night with a 4-3 record after the AAA Taylor Duck's smothered the cage Yoemen, 70-42 in a non-district game.

It was the second time in two weeks the Ducks took the Yoe measure by a decisive score.

The Yoe junior varsity also lost to Taylor, 58-35, while Yoeman Jack Chubb hit 23 of Cameron's points.

And the Yoe Frosh lost their season's first to the Taylor, 41-35 with John Barron hitting 21 for Cameron.

Robert Brashear hit 16 points in the Yoe varsity effort while Greg Buzan led Taylor scoring with 21.

Scoring by quarters:

	1st	2nd	3rd	4th	Total
Yoe	6	11	14	11	42
Taylor	15	17	15	23	70

Safety Tips For Christmas Lights

Special lighting has become an important way of conveying Christmas messages in many homes. For a bright and safe holiday season, follow tips for safer, easier installation and maintenance of lighting decorations.

Before hanging Christmas lights, examine the strings carefully, replacing those that have frayed wires or damaged sockets.

Next check the bulbs, replacing old ones with new in places that may be difficult to reach once the strings are positioned.

Protect spots where outdoor plugs and connectors join with wrappings of plastic film. Seal the ends with plastic tape.

For outdoor Christmas lights, sockets must be waterproof and bulbs should be made of glass that is resistant to sudden temperature change, in case of rain or show. Bulbs for outdoor strings are larger than indoor bulbs.

For hanging outdoor decorations, use brass cup hooks. Clothesline hooks may be used to support heavier displays.

Always use insulated staples to fasten electrical cord or string sets to wooden or cardboard surfaces.

Keep the string set wire or lamp from rubbing against eaves by taping the string to brass cup hooks fastened every 12 to 18 inches along the path of the wire.

Corrugated cardboard may be used to protect doors and walls from being scratched by decorations.

Before decorating the indoor Christmas tree, stand it in a pail of water for a few days before setting it up, then use a tree holder with a water container. Examine the branches daily, and if there are dried needles near or around the lights, move the lights to another position.

Clarkson News

By Mrs. J. A. Blasienz

C. C. Hill of Baytown died Dec. 1 at his deer lease near Franklin with an apparent heart attack.

Funeral services were held Thursday Dec. 3 at the Earthman Funeral chapel at Baytown. Burial was in Memory Garden in that city. Relatives attending from Clarkson and Bryan were Mrs. Joe Hauk her mother, Mrs. T. W. Garrett, Henry Garrett and and Bobby Garrett.

Mrs. Alfred Kohring is spending this week in Irving welcoming a new grandson, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Kohring. He was born Dec. 3, weighing 7 pounds 14 ounces and has been named Stephen Dean. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Doskocil of Irving, and the Alfred Kohrings.

Mrs. J. A. Blasienz and Mrs. C. C. Herring spent Friday in Ben Arnold visiting in the Bill Harrison home.

Guests in the George Dodd home over the weekend were Lonnie Dodd and three of his friends, Billy Gilium, Bobby Thompson and Mike Fulsom all from Midland. All four of the boys attend John Tarleton College in Stepenville.

Mrs. Mary Doskocil of Ben Arnold visited with her sister Mrs. V. D. Dodd and Mrs. Joe Hauk on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cullen White and Leslie Reynolds were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Reynolds in Taylor Sunday.

With F.M.L.

SEQUEL--Everyone knows of 111's splendid work with plumbing in another house in another year. That's the time he took the drain pipe from beneath a bathroom lavatory and rinsed it out in the sink, flooding, of course, the bathroom.

At our new location, 111 knew better than to run the water when the same stopped up pipe problem arose.

He even anticipated this problem by putting a bucket beneath the sink in case there was, for some reason, another lapse. Or an influx of gremlins who turn water on when pipes are missing.

Using the same wrench ("something borrowed, something blue") and the same finesse, 111 turned the pipe fitting at one end.

It came loose with little difficulty. Good. Remember, don't turn the water on.

Now turn the other fitting, loosen it, take the pipe clean it in another sink, put it back.

Hmmm. Stuck. Just another turn. A little more leverage.

Hmmm. The pipe is cracking. Just a little water drips out, nothing to worry. 111 knows better than to turn on the water.

Funny, the fitting won't come loose. The pipe is cracking. Surely not.

Try another fitting at the wall. Stuck. Hmmm.

Didn't know pipes were brittle. Thought they would bend. But this. . .

"How's it going?" wife asks.

"They sure make brittle pipes these days. Must have been years since it was installed. . . ."

"I'll call the plumber," says she. "And put down that wrench."

How dare she use that tone. Last time she only laughed.

Mailing Crisis Seen

DALLAS

William L. Crawford, Director Dallas Postal Region, has urged immediate mailing of all Christmas cards, parcels and other holiday mail as a safeguard in the event of a national railroad strike.

Crawford, who directs the management operations of 2,133 post offices in Texas and Louisiana, said he had been advised Dec. 4 by Postmaster General Winton M. Blount to step up Christmas mailing.

"Early mailing of Christmas cards, letters and parcels," Crawford said, "Will give customers added assurance of delivery in time for the holidays."

The nationwide announcement to accelerate Christmas mailing came from the Postmaster General in view of a pending nationwide rail strike tentatively scheduled to begin shortly after midnight, Wednesday, December 10.

"During that period holiday mail customarily begins climbing to its peak," Crawford advised, "and we want to help our customers get ahead of this situation if it should develop.

"We will utilize every alternative mode of transportation available," he said, "to move as much mail as possible. However, we would be remiss if we did not strongly urge postal customers to dispose of out-of-town Christmas cards and packages immediately to insure that the rail strike -- if one occurs -- does not prevent delivery by Christmas Day."

Police Report Three Breakins

Two Midland men were arrested by city and county law officers Saturday in connection with breakins at three buildings in West Cameron.

City police reported that one man was arrested in Draper's Grocery on West 4th St. about 2:30 a.m. where he and a companion had apparently broken in. The other man was arrested by county officers at a resident in Maysfield.

An attempt to break into the West Side Package Store on the Temple highway was also reported. Police said glass in the front door was broken, but the store was not entered.

A breakin was reported at Minton's Place, where some beer was stolen.

The men, reportedly on probation in Midland County, were transferred to county authorities.

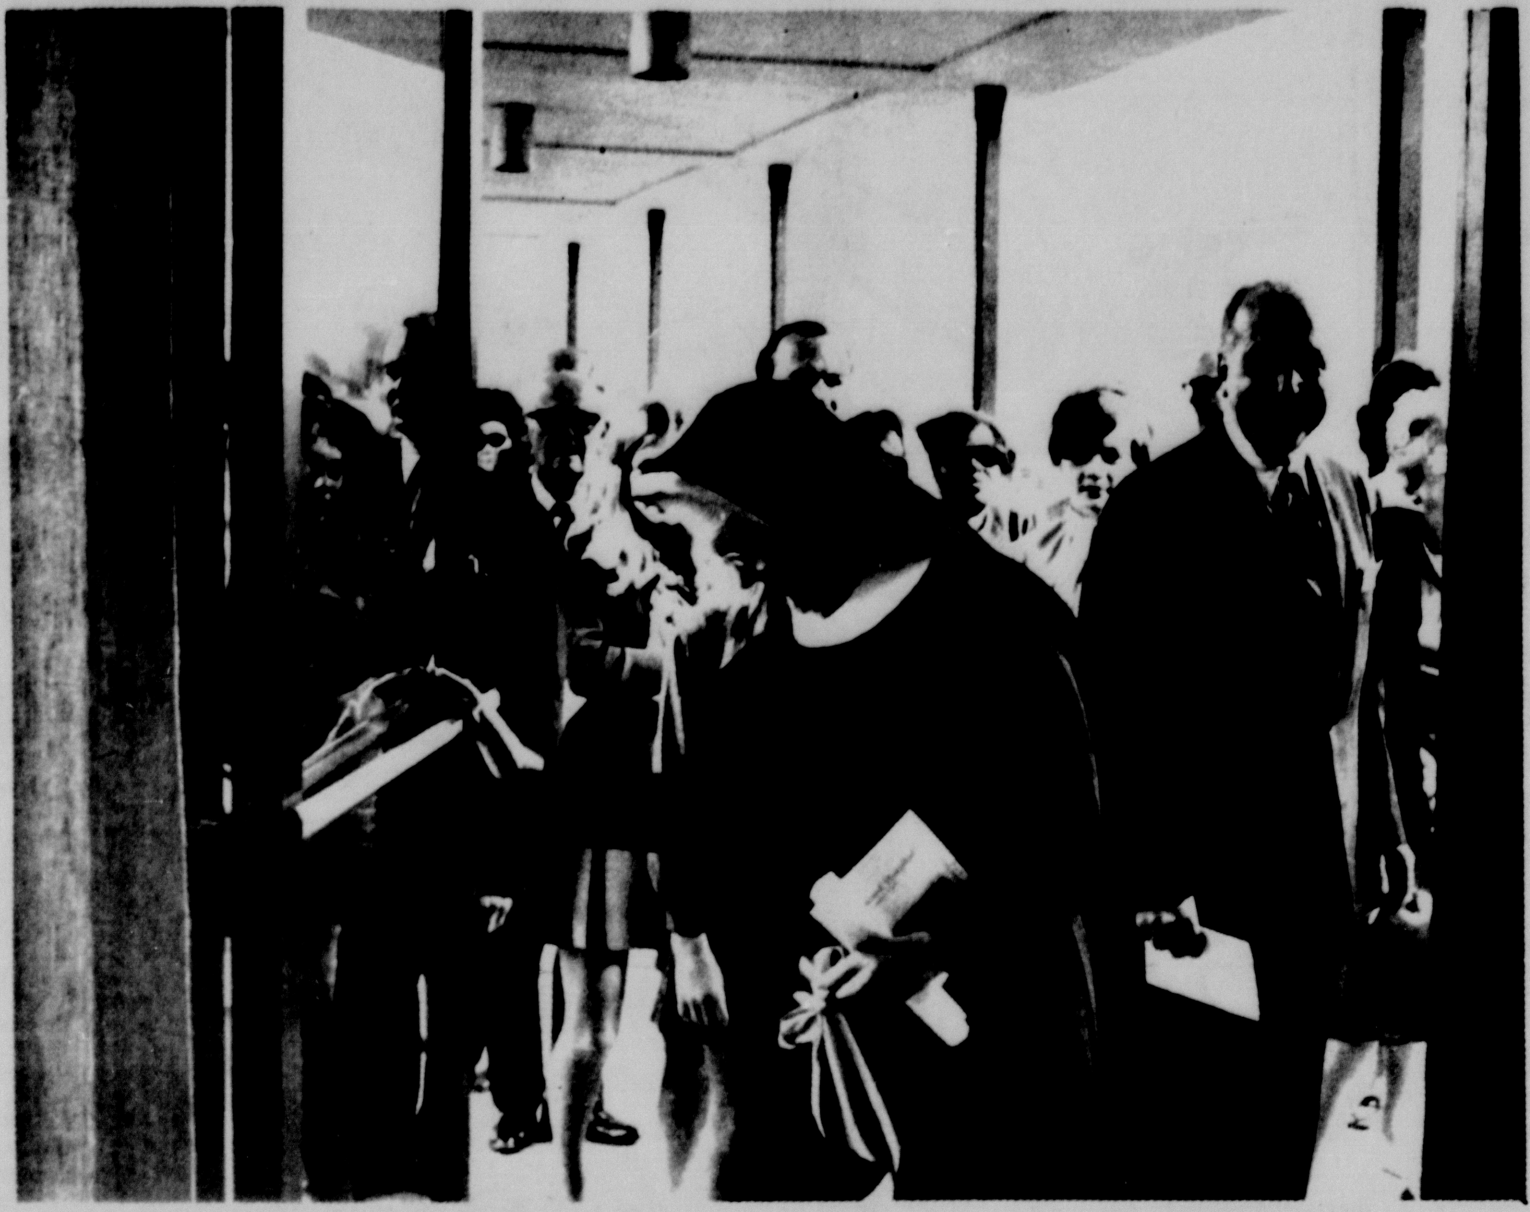
HERALD FOR CHRISTMAS



A WONDERFUL MOMENT for Sister Mary Kostka, St. Edward Hospital administrator, as she opens the doors and prepares to welcome guests into the new hospital. An open house was held following ribbon-cutting ceremonies at the new facility Sunday. At right is Arthur M. Doty, president of The Alcoa Foundation, who was featured speaker at the dedication.

Dedicated Sunday...

1,000 Tour New St. Ed Hospital

A crowd estimated at over 1,000 people saw the ceremonial ribbon cut at the door of the new $1 million St. Edward Hospital Sunday, marking the reality of "a dream come true."

Featured speaker at the ribbon-cutting ceremony was A. M. Doty, president of The Alcoa Foundation. The Foundation's $25,000 grant was the largest single donation for the new facility.

The outdoor dedication program included remarks by Sister Mary Kostka, hospital administrator; Mayor E. A. Perrin, Dr. C. G. Swift, and Mrs. William Burns, president of the hospital's women's auxiliary.

Also speaking at the ceremonies was Sister Mary Bernice, of Houston, Superior General of the Sisters of Charity of The Incarnate Word.

Robert Ellett, chairman of the hospital development fund, was master of ceremonies.

Following the program guests were invited to tour the new hospital, which includes 19 private and 30 semi-private patient rooms, a modern medical laboratory, and obstetrical department.

The Alcoa Foundation grant was earmarked for the new surgery suite which features two large full-equipped operating rooms -- one for general surgery and one for urology.

A two-bed recovery area is adjacent to the surgical suite, which includes a combination intensive care - coronary care area for those persons who have had major surgery, are seriously ill, or are cardiac patients.

At the close of his remarks, Doty said that he was proud of all who had worked untiringly in efforts to bring a modern medical facility to Cameron.

1225 Children 'Shot' At Rubella Clinics Sunday

The "rub out Rubella" campaign was declared a success by county health officials who reported 1225 children receiving immunization Sunday.

Clinics were held at Cameron and at Rockdale to administer vaccine for rubella, or German measles, to children between ages 1-10.

Dr. C. G. Swift, co-chairman of the program, said 484 children were immunized in Cameron and 741 in Rockdale. He said the large numbers represented children from all over the county.

Lon Gee, health program specialist for the Texas State Department of Health at Austin, was coordinator for the program. Registered nurses working in the two clinics included Jo Laywell, Marie Jackson, Jane Cunningham, and Mildred Wheeler.

Assisting at the clinics were Jackie Macal, Shirley Crook, Retta Chandler, Jo Barker, Clara Richardson, Theodora Marek, Christine Riola, and Helen Massengale.

Dr. Swift expressed appreciation to all the volunteers who helped make the program a success.

Fire Burns Home Near Buckholts, Field At Belmena

Cameron volunteer firemen answered calls Saturday and Monday, the first a grass fire and Monday's a house fire.

The grass fire started on the Bill Kennon place in Belmena community Saturday and narrowly missed reaching the outbuildings and the Kennon home.

Flames were reported racing through dry needle grass toward the buildings when the wind suddenly shifted to the north, turning the fire.

The grassfire spread into the adjoining Harwell place, burning some pasture and woods. Firemen, aided by neighbors and other volunteers fought the fire for about five hours.

The Trine Mendoza home near Buckholts was completely destroyed by fire Monday afternoon. Cameron volunteer firemen were called, but were unable to save the house. No one was at home when the fire started.

Trio Nets Probation

In District Court on Wednesday, December 2, three Bell County men pleaded guilty to the offense of "injuring the (personal) property of another" and each was assessed a five-year probated sentence.

The men are Thomas A. Mikulastik, John M. Montgomery and Edward Louis Rohan.

In addition to the usual conditions of probation, restitution to the injured parties was ordered by the Court, to be paid by the defendants, according to County Atty. John B. Henderson Jr.

The three men were charged in Bell, Milam and Falls counties in connection with a series of incidents on February 9, 19 and 20. Alleged offenses included injuring property of others, theft, burglary, and discharge of firearms.

In Bell County District Court Monday, Nov. 30, the three subjects were assessed ten-year probated sentences for the offense of armed robbery.

The trio is in Falls County jail, where they are scheduled to be tried December 14 in Falls District Court on 21 counts of burglary, theft and discharging of firearms.

Drouth Stress Seen In Area Range Grass

Rainless Days, Drying Winds Stunt Growth

While most Central Texans have been enjoying this fall's mild weather, livestock producers are eyeing almost-daily clouds that just won't dump rain on their drying pastures.

Only .27 of an inch of rain has been measured since October 23, when 2.75 inches was recorded by the city gauge. Stockmen report pastures and small grain forage crops vital to Milam's $7 million livestock industry are suffering from lack of moisture.

Strong, dry winds have aggravated the stress conditions and ranchers report large cracks opening in dry earth, a repetition of area conditions in late August.

Range grasses and forage crops that got off to a good start after drouth-breaking rains in September and October have "just quit growing," County Agent J. D. Moore said this week.

An early freeze in November was also a setback for pastures, Moore said. Coastal and native bermuda grasses are now dormant and moisture is needed to revive clover and small grains, such as oats and winter rye.

"The situation is not yet critical," Moore added, "but some rain now would make quite a difference in grazing conditions before the 'real winter' weather in January and February."

The cattle market is beginning to reflect the fall drouth situation. The Texas Livestock Marketing News reports this week that more yearlings were on offer in Central Texas markets "coming from winter pastures due to lack of moisture."

Santa's Coming!

Santa's coming Saturday and tho it is a busy time of year for him, he promises to lend an attentive ear to the wishes of his young friends in Cameron.

The jolly old gentleman in red suit and white beard will be sitting in his sleigh on the courthouse lawn from 10 to 11 a.m., 1 to 3 p.m. and 5 to 6:30 p.m. He'll have candy and balloons for his little friends.

If the weather is bad Santa will visit with children inside the courthouse, in the first floor hall.

It's Time For Santa Letters

It's Santa letter time for children in the Milam County area.

Following long established tradition, The Cameron Herald will publish children's letters to Santa in the Christmas edition scheduled for December 24.

Children in first through 4th grades will write their Santa letters at school. Pre-schoolers letters should be addressed to Santa, c/o The Cameron Herald, Cameron, Texas.

H.M.S. Cameron

Battleship Badge Finds Home

The badge of the H.M.S. Cameron has been mounted and given a permanent home in the Cameron Public Library. History of the plaque links Cameron with the British Navy in World War II.

The badge has been in 'temporary' quarters at Yoe High School since it was presented to the city by the British government in 1950. It was discovered there by Rev. J. E. Lafferty who checked into it's history and started efforts to find a more suitable home for the historic emblem.

The U.S.S. Welles, a destroyer, along with 49 other old American destroyers, was loaned to Great Britain in 1940. Each ship was re-named in honor of America. The Welles was turned over to the Clan of Cameron of Scotland for renaming. Research proved that although many American towns bore the name Cameron, only one was named in honor of a member of the Clan of Cameron. That was Cameron, Texas, named in memory of Captain Ewen Cameron who gave his life in the ill-fated Mier Expedition of the Texas Revolution.

The re-naming was followed by a series of telegrams between Scotland and the City of Cameron.

From Edinburgh, Scotland on September 20, 1940 came the following telegram:

"The Camerons of Scotland salute the towns folk of Cameron, Texas. We are delighted and proud to learn that one of the destroyers is to bear the name Cameron. It is a reminder of the enduring friendship of USA and Britain and of the Common interest in the fight for freedom. All Britain is grateful to the people of USA for their help and the Camerons are thrilled by the knowledge that a Cameron from the United States will join in destroying on the seas the archenemy of freedom."

Cameron responded with the following telegram on September 24:

"Your salutation is acknowledged with pride by the City of Cameron named in honor of Scotsman Captain Ewen Cameron who died a hero of the Texas Revolution in defense of human rights and liberties. May Britain continue undaunted in defense of the same cause and justice and liberty triumph to deliver Europe and the world from the threat of aggression and slavery."

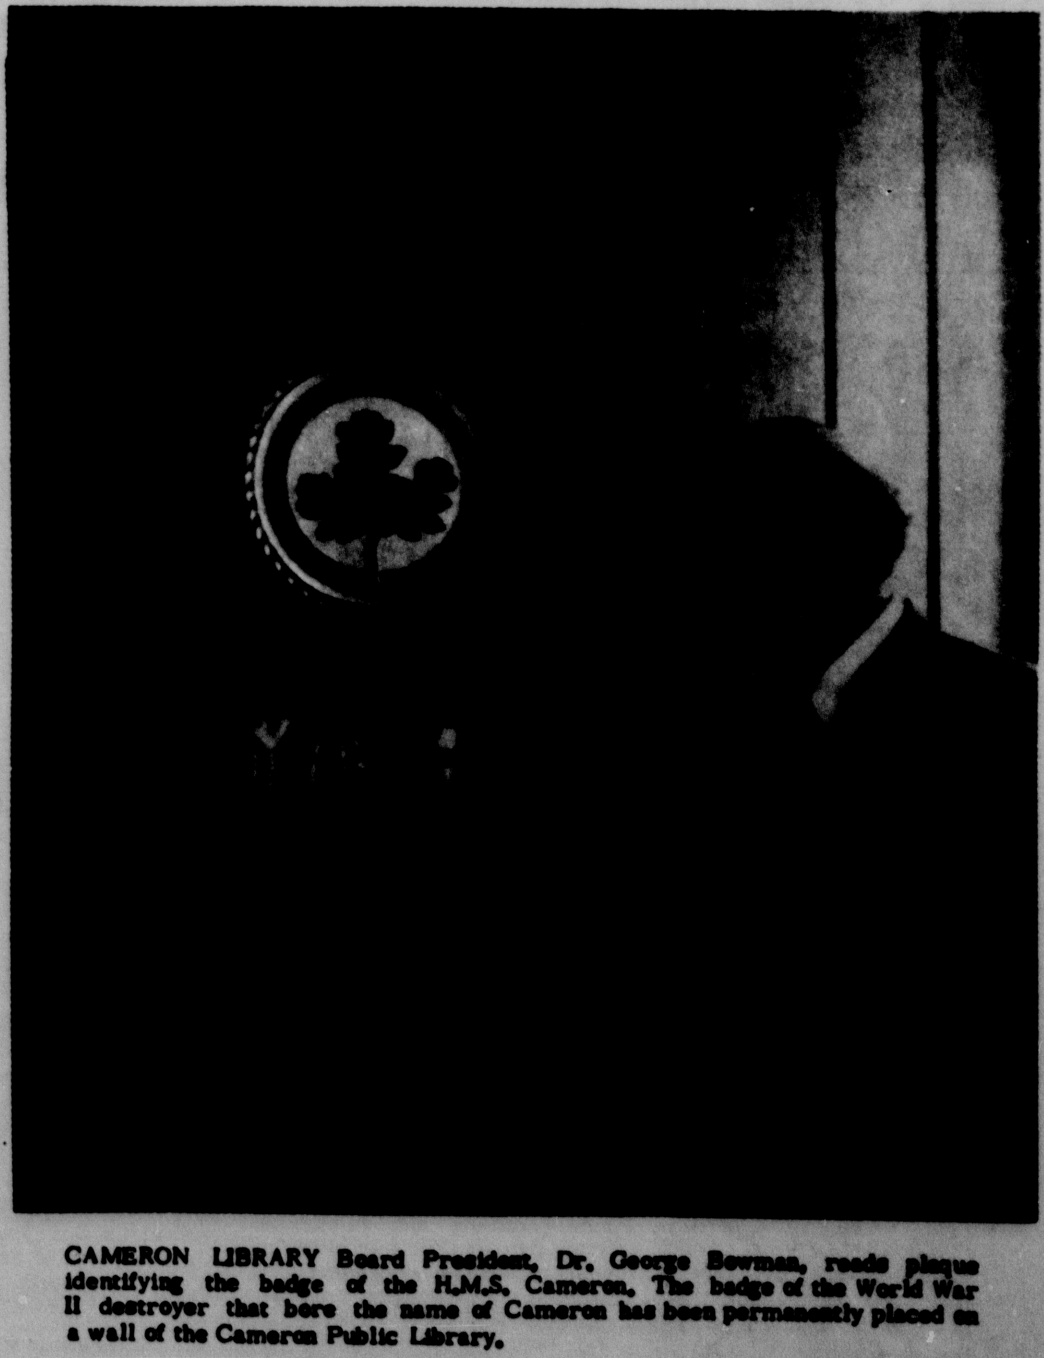
Cameronites followed the news of the H.M.S. Cameron and through efforts of the Cameron Rotary Club and J. E. Johnson, provided Christmas presents to the ship crew in 1940.

The 50 destroyers, including the Cameron, were destined to help save Britain from starvation by carrying supplies across the submarine - infested waters of the Atlantic. By the end of World War II the H.M.S. Cameron was the only one saved. The badge was presented to the City of Cameron at an impressive ceremony on the Yoe High Athletic Field on September 26, 1950.

On a special platform decked with flowers and the flags of Great Britain and the United States, representatives of Great Britain, the United States and the City of Cameron took part in the formal presentation. Representing the British government were British Consul-General of the 50 destroyers still in use.

Old, battered and bruised from years of service, she was decommissioned and scrapped, but the ship log and badge were of Texas and New Mexico James Thyne Henderson and Capt. John Holmes, British Attache to the U.S. Representing the United States Navy was Capt. Leonard Mewhinney, a native of Milam County. And representing the City of Cameron was Councilman Roy Baskin and W. T. Haines, superintendent of Cameron schools.

In presenting the badge, Henderson said ". . .it was carried proudly by the ship which bore the name of your city and at the same time the name of one of the Scottish clans. It was your ship; it had ties with Texas and your committee sent tokens of friendship to the men who manned it."



CAMERON LIBRARY Board President, Dr. George Bowman, reads plaque identifying the badge of the H.M.S. Cameron. The badge of the World War II destroyer that bore the name of Cameron has been permanently placed on a wall of the Cameron Public Library.

The Christmas Word....

Christmas Season is upon us.

It's the time of year when we look forward to those hundreds of letters to Santa, due for publication Christmas Eve day.

Your Herald encourages, indeed invites children of schools throughout the area to note their hopes in an annual message to St. Nicholas. Perhaps they will again let this newspaper convey that message.

Christmas decorations in Cameron are up and homes are brightening with lights and decorations of the Yule Season.

It is a wonderful time of the year, though for parents and grandparents, those Santa helpers whose assistance helps Santa know as much as he does, it is a busy time.

Decorations in other Milam communities are attractive. Rockdale has bright lights strung not only across downtown thoroughfare, but along building fronts.

Once the Cameron downtown is modernized, Christmas decor will be even brighter there. Our lights and streamers are handsome in late evening.

The stores are filled with good things and hearts are a little lighter this time of year. The anticipation of the deeper meaning of Yuletide makes Santa letters a welcome directory to what will happen under thousands of Christmas trees December 25.

So if your youngster is inclined, and he certainly is interested, write a letter with him or help him spell some words and send it in. Your Herald will do its best to pass the Christmas word.

Dear Santa...

Dear Santa:

Please give Milam County a new county jail by next Christmas. We know it cannot be done by this December 25.

Santa, people still get out of Milam Jail by going out the cupola window, similar to the roof "leaking" people a few years ago.

Santa, the County Jail is outmoded. Please give us a modern building with modern cells, modern plumbing, modern facilities to sustain as well as keep "in" prisoners when they are properly charged.

Please ask Milam Commissioners Court to review plans of a jail voted on a few years ago. They fixed the Courthouse interior. Why not a new jail? Can an 80-year-old structure unable to contain people who want out be remodeled?

Santa, invite the current session of the Milam Grand Jury to tour the jail facilities and inquire into conditions there everyone is aware of. That's not too much to ask, is it?

Help us build a facility which needs replacing and which will encourage modern penology, even just for "over-night" prisoners.

Your Herald

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Tree in Dispute

Watson had a special affection for the old shade tree growing on the boundary line of his property. But Jenks, the man next door, considered it an eyesore. One day Jenks announced he was going to cut away half of the tree, trunk and all.

Watson hastened into court for a stop order. But at the hearing, Jenks stood firm.

"I own everything up to the boundary line," he said, "including half of the tree. If his half cannot survive on its own, that is his problem—not mine."

Nevertheless, the court ordered Jenks to leave the tree alone. The judge said the tree was owned not in two separate halves but jointly, with neither owner entitled to destroy the property rights of the other.

This is the law's usual attitude toward natural growth that happens to be located on a boundary line. Based on simple practicality, the rule generally applies not only to trees but to hedges as well.

Still, the rule may bend with circumstances. Take this situation:

A boundary line hedge between two homes began to get top-heavy. One of the home owners rented an electric shear and cut the hedge down low. His neighbor promptly filed suit for damages, accusing him of cutting away part of their jointly-owned property without permission.

But the court, unable to discern any damage, turned down the neighbor's claim. The court pointed out that the hedge, trimmed down, was actually in better condition than it had been before.

Occasionally even a total destruction by one of the co-owners may be justified. In another case, the roots of an old poplar had split the foundation of one of the adjacent houses. Overhead, the branches had grown dangerously brittle. Lopping off the roots and branches, according to a tree expert, could well cause the whole tree to topple over.

This time, a court ruled that the tree could be destroyed altogether. The court said the victim of a nuisance has the right to abate it—and this tree could fairly be classified as a nuisance.

1972-73 Budget Will Need A $643.5 Million Tax Bill

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

Legislative Budget Board staff members added little to the season's cheer for legislators with their estimate that even a rigidly - conservative 1972-73 budget will require a $643.5 million tax bill.

Lawmakers, who report for the biennial session in January, must pass a $51.4 million emergency finance measure to head off a 20 per cent welfare cut in April, the Budget Board warned. And early approval of a constitutional amendment to raise the $80 million welfare ceiling also will be necessary to avert ~~eventual~~ sharp reductions in aid to the needy.

Board stressed that its budget compilations allow for no new construction funds for any purpose (not even new colleges already authorized) and no money for state employee salary raises.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes called the situation a "crisis."

Senate leaders turned down a no-tax plan advanced by a Houston group. This plan would freeze teacher salaries, raise college tuitions, abandon general revenue appropriations for farmto-market roads, change school finance formulas and divert a portion of the permanent school fund to current spending. Such proposals, said Barnes, "would get about two votes."

Sharp growth in welfare rolls and long-range educational programs already enacted are primary reasons cited for the record tax need.

BOUNDARY HEARING SET

Texas - Louisiana boundary dispute will be argued before Judge Robert Van Pelt in the U.S. Supreme Court in Houston on December 16.

Judge Van Pelt is a senior federal district judge for Nebraska.

Texas claims that midstream of the Sabine River, Sabine Lake and Sabine Pass were established in 1848 by Congress as the dividing line. Louisiana claims the entire river.

Millions in oil lease income are at stake.

TEXAS FOURTH

Texas now is the fourth most-populous state in the nation. New census figures show 11,298,787 population which includes 102,057 Texans abroad.

California still is No. 1, with more than 20 million. New York remains second with 18.2 million and Pennsylvania third with nearly 11.9 million.

Texas barely nosed out Illinois for fourth. Illinois' head count is 11.184 million.

TURKEY PRICES HOLDING

Price of the Christmas turkey in Texas will be about the same, or maybe even less than in 1969, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White figures.

A wire service story on November 25 stated that prices of Thanksgiving turkeys over the nation were nine per cent higher this year, but White said this was not true in Texas.

White based this statement on a survey of prices in leading markets of San Antonio, Houston and Dallas.

About 19 per cent more turkeys were produced in Texas this year than in 1969.

HEARING SET

A December 21 public hearing will be held in the McAllen civic center on proposed piece rates for hand harvesting of agricultural commodities.

Rate system, under the state Minimum Wage Law, will be based on average worker productivity by commodity and will become effective on February 1.

A comprehensive statewide field study of actual worker productivity has been under way since September, 1969. Proposed rates will be recommended at the December hearing for harvesting citrus fruit and all Texas vegetables.

A later hearing will take up piece rates for harvesting pecans, blackberries and cotton, plus a few fruits and vegetables produced in limited quantities.

COURTS SPEAK

Reversing itself, the State Supreme Court upheld a $10,000 libel judgement against a Denton publishing company as the result of an erroneous report (which the Court said was not privileged). Story reportedly stated that a local developer was bankrupt. In an earlier opinion, the High Court, by a 5 to 4 vote, had held for the newspaper publisher. Newspaper had quoted a statement made at a city council meeting but through oversight did not say who made the statement.

In other cases the High Court:

- Set arguments for January 20 over the validity of the incorporation of West Lake Hills, an Austin suburb.
- Upheld a lower court decision invalidating a Comanche County local option election to permit liquor sale.
- Affirmed the right of a Fort Worth school district to prevent students from belonging to secret clubs.

Court of Criminal Appeals, in Smith and Tarrant County cases, found that a 1969 legislative act wiped out part of the state law against ex - convicts carrying concealed weapons.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editar:

According to an article I read in a newspaper last night scientists are making steady progress in converting the 48 billion bottles thrown away every year by Americans into something useful. They're making what they call "glassphalt" out of them.

They grind them up, mix them with other ingredients, and then make paved highways out of the stuff.

This is a fine idea but as usual scientists are going about it the hard way, just as they've been spending years perfecting a computerized, automatic meter reader to eliminate somebody's having to come around every month to see how much water or gas or electricity you've used, when what I'd like to see them do is eliminate the meter altogether.

Now in regard to grinding glass bottles up into paving material, that's fine, but under the system the scientists are working on the bottles have to be first used, thrown away, picked up, carried to a central plant, ground up, and then hauled back to wherever a highway is being paved.

This is a lot of wasted effort. Here we've all gone to the trouble of throwing the bottles along our own roads in the first place, so why can't the scientists figure out a machine that'll convert them into pavement right where they are?

It seems unfair to have the bottles we throw out here in Milam County wind up maybe as pavement in Bell County. We're just as much entitled to good roads as they are.

If they get this newer, improved machine invented there's just one other thing that'd need to be done.

We'd need a vast, nation-wide training program to improve people's aim.

Like it is, some people are such poor shots and care so little about good roads they miss the right-of-way altogether and their bottles wind up in my pasture. I don't need a paved road there. Too many people visit me like it is.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

BILL STOPS FOOD STAMPS TO STRIKERS

SENATOR STROM THURMOND (S.C.) ". . . In 1964 it was brought to the Senate's attention that the Food Stamp Act of 1964 was too broadly written, for it allowed certain undeserving individuals to receive welfare benefits under it. Since 1964 the unfairness of providing public assistance to union strikers in the form of Federal food stamps has been pointed out on more than one occasion.

"The gross unfairness and totally ridiculous result of the Food Stamp Act in this regard is now clearly evident to all.

"When 343,210 General Motors employees, who were members of the United Auto Workers Union, went on strike a few months ago, many of them lined up at Welfare offices and demanded food stamps, claiming that they were no longer able to provide "a nutritionally adequate diet" for themselves and their families. . .

"The reason was, of course, that these union workers simply refused to work and voluntarily walked off their jobs. I do not question, nor ask this Senate body to question, the right of these strikers or the right of any man to decide not to work. What I do question is, however, whether the citizens of this country should be required to subsidize the income of an individual who voluntarily decides to quit work and go on strike.

"If a man is willing to work but is unable to find a job, then I believe in assisting him. However, if an individual simply refuses to work when there are plenty of jobs open to him, then I have no sympathy for him. . .

"Under the law as it is presently written, the Department of Agriculture had no alternative but to authorize the issuance of food stamps to these individuals. In my judgement this amounted to a terrible economic crime perpetrated on the American taxpayer who, through his taxes, was actually forced to contribute his hard - earned dollars to the purchase of food stamps for these individuals who refused to work...

"The strikers in one State were drawing so many stamps that the Federal Government had difficulty keeping the stamps printed and supplied to the local agencies. . .

"Since these strikers were being fed at the taxpayers expense, there was little incentive to go back to work...

"I consider the events involving the issuance of food stamps to union strikers an outrage. This practice should be discontinued. In order to accomplish this goal, I introduce a bill (S.4505) to amend the Food Stamp Act of 1964 which will make strikers ineligible to participate in Federal food stamp programs. . ."

Trim excess fat from a 4 lb. flat cut chuck roast. Brown in 2 tablespoons oil in skillet. Add 1 cup chopped onion. Sprinkle 1 teaspoon seasoned salt, 1/4 teaspoon seasoned pepper and 1/2 teaspoon salt over meat. Halve tomatoes from 2 16 oz. cans Red & White tomatoes; add to meat along with juice. Cover and simmer 1 hour. Add 1 cup dried apricots and 1/2 cup raisins; cover and simmer 1 hour longer or until meat is tender. Place hot cooked noodles on serving platter. Arrange meat and fruit on top. If desired, gravy may be made from drippings, in skillet, and served over noodles.

Quality Water Meeting Concerns Livestock Men

By J. D. Moore

Quality water: Should Milam County be concerned about quality water? A meeting to discuss quality water is set for 2 p.m. Friday, December 11, in the Conference Room of the First National Bank in Cameron.

The Quality Water meeting is open to the public. Swine, beef, and dairy producers are urged to attend.

Joe Morgan, Texas Water Quality Board Representative from Waco will discuss requirements livestock and dairy producers will be asked to meet in the future to prevent water pollution from livestock operations.

Jack Jones, Rural Development Specialist from A&M, will discuss "An Overview of the Water Pollution Problem."

Environmental pollution is the big topic today on the street corner, in our schools, at the office, out on the farm - even in the White House.

Did something happen in the last year or so to suddenly cause "Pollution"? Of course not. In general terms, invironmental pollution might be defined as any unfavorable alteration of our surroundings.

Pollution is at least as old as man himself. However, its probably true that some factors in the environmental situation have become much more obvious during recent years.

In too many cases, pollution has been the by-product of progress. As our technology has increased, our capacity to pollute the air, land, and water has also grown.

What ever the source of our environmental ills, the solution will lie in broad-purpose thinking that recognize all of the cause and effect relationship involved in our total environmental balance.

It's up to every one of us to seek a better world, and we can start by seeking out the real facts involved and making our own effort to do something about it in a logical, rational way.

Today's Pork Has Less Fat, More Protein

COLLEGE STATION

The type of pork that is produced and eaten today has 22 percent more protein than formerly, 57 percent less fat and 36 percent fewer calories.

This is due to the selection program initiated during the middle 1950s by pork producers, Dr. William B. Thomas, Extension swine specialist, notes, adding that they had hopes that this would eventually lead to the high quality pork products that are now available to the consumer.

"Up until the mid 50s little had been done by producers to breed pigs that had a maximum amount of lean meat and minimum fat," he explained. "You see, pigs inherit to a degree their muscling and fat from their parents, the boar and sow.

"Pork producers by selecting superior breeding stock, boars and gilts with a minimum amount of fat and maximum lean, have been able to improve the quality of pork available to consumers at their local meat market."

An average serving of cooked prok (3 1/2 ounces) will provide an adult male with 40 percent of his daily protein needs, 69 percent of his thiamine (Vitamine B1) requirement, sufficient amounts of other vitamins and minerals, especially iron, and less than eight percent of his daily calorie intake. These figures are based on the daily allowance of nutrients recommended by the National Research Council.

"There is a greater supply of high quality pork today than ever before," Dr. Thomas said. "This holiday season, help reduce the level of supplies by serving pork to your family and friends," suggests the specialist.

FARM NEWS

CONFERENCE ON CHILDREN

Texas 4-H Club members will be represented at the Dec. 13-18 White House Conference on Children by Stella Rose, Brackettville and Randy Miller, Edinburg.

DON'T BLAME FARMER

It's twice as costly to market farm products as to produce the food in the first place, surprising though this may seem. When they left the farm, food raw materials produced by U.S. farmers in 1969 were worth $32 billion. By the time they reached the consumer, their cost had soared to $96 billion.

ALERT ON GRASS FIRES

The dry and windy weather has created conditions very favorable for grass fires. Hunters are urged to be doubly careful with fires while in the field.

Junior Livestock Show Set Jan. 16

By Danny Phillips, ACAA

January 16 has been set as the date for the annual Milam County Junior Livestock Show. The Board of Directors met November 17 and started plans for this year's show.

The show this year promises to be a good one with many entries from all parts of the county expected. The rules for the show remain the same as last year.

The classes for the show are as follows: market hogs, unbred, gilts, bred gilts, steers, junior breeding beef females, dairy females, fat lambs, and breeding ewes.

The entry fees for the show are: sheep, hogs, rabbits - $1.00 and cattle - $2.00.

The show is open to 4-H members and vocational agricultural students in the county. Entry blanks will be available to the teachers in a few days. 4-H'ers will meet later to fill out their entry blanks.

OTHER MAJOR SHOWS

The Ft. Worth Livestock Show will be held January 29 - Feb. 7.

Milam 4-H'ers entering the show include Juliann McDaniel with 3 Southdown lambs and 2 Hampshire lambs; Lynn Laywell with 2 Hampshire lambs; Blane Laywell with a Dorset lamb and a Charolais Hereford Steer for the carcass contest.

Competing in the San Antonio Show will be Sandra Cobb who will exhibit 2 crossbred barrows. Gary Cobb and Gery Hollas will also show crossbred barrows.

Juliann McDaniel will show 3 Southdowns and 2 Hampshire lambs. Two of these lambs will be carcassed and compete in the Quality Lamb contest.

Mark Clark of Rockdale will show a Brangus heifer.

HOW TO BUY BEEF

To get the most from beef purchases, W. W. Bailey, Extension livestock and meat specialist, suggests that buyers use both the U.S.D.A. quality grades, which have been in use for many years, and the newer yield grades. The quaility grades indicate the palatability of the meat while the yield grades indicate the yield of meat that can be used for cooking.

The final large show of the year will be the Houston Livestock Show. Juliann McDaniel will exhibit 5 lambs. Lynn Laywell will show 2 lambs and Della and Blane will each exhibit 2 steers.

Good luck to all of these young 4-H'ers.

ASCS

By Alva E. Sanders

Peanut allotment notices for the 1971 crop were mailed to producers on December 2, 1970.

A national peanut allotment of 1,610,000 acres -- the same as for 1970 -- has been announced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

In general, peanut growers who grew their full allotments in 1970 received about the same acreage allotments this year.

Peanut growers who comply with their allotments will be eligible for price support loans at a rate to be announced later.

Marketing penalties will apply to peanuts produced in excess of allotment.

By law the Secretary of Agriculture is required to proclaim a national marketing quota and a national acreage allotment for peanuts each year.

On the basis of the prospective need for peanuts for food uses, the national marketing quota would be 1,021,000 tons, which would result in a national acreage allotment of 1,218,031 acres.

However, the law provides for a minimum national allotment of 1,610,000 acres, so the marketing quota has been set at 1,533,650 tons, which is the amount determined sufficient to provide for the minimum national allotment.

Peanut marketing quotas have been in effect since 1949. Growers vote at least every three years on whether or not to accept marketing quotas.

The last referendum was held in December, 1968, when 96.9 percent of growers voting favored marketing quotas for the 1969, 1970, and 1971 crops.

NATIONAL CONFERENCE ON FARM PROGRAMS FOR THE 70's

A national conference on farm programs for the 70's has been called in Washington, D.C., November 30 through December 3, by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, farm program agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Attending from Texas will be the members of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee and State office staff members.

High-ranking government officials will address the conference on a variety of current topics, with interest expected to center on new farm legislation which now awaits the signature of President Nixon.

Broad, long-range agricultural questions also will be discussed by Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin, Under Sec. J. Phil Campbell, Asst. Sec. Clarence D. Palmby, ASCS Administrator Kenneth E. Frick and other USDA officials.

On the opening day of the National Farm Program Conference, Oklahoma Cong. Page Belcher of the House Agriculture Committee will be luncheon speaker. A featured speaker that afternoon will be Atty. Gen. John Mitchell.

"Most of the conference will be devoted to information on the new farm legislation," ASC Committee Chairman Danklefs said. "The legislation is a significant change in American farm policy and programs. It is designed to give farmers more opportunity to manage production for market demand and increase farm income. It provides farmers more freedom in management of their farms than any previous farm Program legislation."

He stated it was his understanding that producers could look forward to learning details of the new farm programs in the near future. "The National Conference on Farm Programs for the 70's is the first step in acquainting farmers with the new directions of farm programs," Danklefs said.

LIQUID FEED SUPPLEMENT

FEEDING T-E LIQUID FEED IS SO EASY IT COULD SPOIL YOU

When you get out of bed in the morning, your supplement feeding chores may already be done for days to come—if you're feeding T-E Liquid Feed Supplement.

Because one refill of the free-choice range feeders will take care of your herd for about ten days, using a T-E feeder for every 75 to 100 head. All you have to do is make the rounds, once every ten days, stopping at each feeder long enough to watch it fill up.

T-E Liquid Feed Supplement cuts out most of the time, labor and equipment connected with dry supplements . . . saves you money.

The proof of T-E Liquid Feed Supplement is in the extra quality your animals will show—extra energy, extra good health, extra gain. And that means extra profits from your range feeding program.

T-E Liquid Feed Supplement along with adequate roughage, minerals and water, is the easy way to be sure your animals are getting the protein, phosphorus, vitamins and trace minerals they need for energy and growth.

Of course, you do have to get out of bed—at least every ten days. Otherwise it could spoil you.

T-E LIQUID FEED SUPPLEMENT IS MADE FROM A PATENTED FORMULA

The basic ingredients of T-E Liquid Feed Supplement are urea, phosphoric acid, molasses, vitamins A, D and E and trace minerals. The urea is chemically inhibited (by the patented formulation with phosphoric acid and molasses) to control the release of nitrogen and pace its conversion into protein for more efficient use by the animal.

Christmas Food Gifts Take Special Handling

By Christine Laws Co. Home Demonstration Agent

Surprise packages from home, filled with cookies, candies and other lip-smacking delights, will arrive fresh and tasty if mailed with special care.

The first step in sending food packages is choosing recipes that stay fresh for a relatively long time. If cookies are too rich, they will probably crumble or turn rancid. Moist sheet cookies cut into bars, and flat, moist individual cookies are the best travel selections. Cookies flavored with honey and fruit improve with age.

Other food items suitable for mailing are fruit cakes, candies, pies, canned meats, pickles and relishes.

Food items should be wrapped with moisture-proof cellophane and aluminum foil, to prevent drying out and keep paperboard cartons from absorbing food oils. Before wrapping allow cookies to cool then wrap several flat ones together in a piece of cellaphane or foil. Bar cookies should be wrapped individually.

After wrapping, pack cookies snugly in a heavy box or tin, stuffing crumpled tissue or newspaper into all corners and spaces, and separating the layers with more paper or with popcorn. If any space remains between the top layer of cookies and the box lid, fill with paper or popcorn.

Fit the box lid down snugly and seal with cellophane tape around the edges. Take larger pieces of moisture-proof cellophane and overwrap the entire carton or tin, sealing the edges with a warm iron or with cellophane tape.

Encase the wrapped tin or box in corrugated paper, then wrap again in heavy brown wrapping paper. If sealing the outside wrapping with tape, parcel post labels must be included to indicate the packages may be opened for postal inspection if necessary.

Put one label on the top of the package and another on the bottom. Print or type the name and address of both the receiver and mailer of the package on both the labels and the wrapper itself. Thus, if the labels should come off during shipment, the address will still be available.

Tie the package securely with several rounds of sturdy twine. Mark "This side up" and "fragile" on top of the box.

Mail the package as soon as it is wrapped.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY - Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lorenz of Buckholts observed their 50th wedding anniversary Friday, December 4. They were married at the Ben Arnold Lutheran Church in 1920 and have four children, Mrs. Milton Valka, Mrs. Herman Stoebner, Melvin Lorenz and Raymond Lorenz, and six grandchildren.

Couples Host Pre Season Yule Party

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Baskin, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bush, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Holder and Mr. and Mrs. Bassel Wilson hosted a prechristmas supper in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Sunday night, Dec. 6, from 5 to 9.

A buffet supper of Danish ham, smoked turkey, salads, assorted relish trays and other Christmas treats were served.

Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Blake Birdwell and Miss Beatrice Perry of Belton, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Copeland, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Wolf, Dr. and Mrs. Tyler Cagel, Mrs. Effie Hoover, Mr. Hugh Cox and Dr. and Mrs. James Wilson of Temple.

Also: Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Harrison of Killeen, Mr. and Mrs. John Kuehlman and Mrs. Ruby Lee Gray of Holland, Miss Mildred Thornton and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Baskin Jr. of Cameron.

An evening of musical fun including organ and piano music and singing of Christmas carols was enjoyed.

The Wilson home was attractively decorated in the traditional holiday decor.

Gift Suggestions For One Who Has 'Everything'

Still wondering about a Christmas gift for a friend that has everything? Consider a tree or shrub for the garden, or a houseplant.

New homeowners would especially welcome a tree or shrub gift. Select a plant that can be used in the home landscape design. It should also be native or adapted to the area.

Some of the ornamental plants that would make a good gift include the many varieties of holly, dodar cedar, pyracantha, elaeagnus, magnolia and pine. The local nurseryman or florist can help you in the final selction.

If you are considering a house plant gift, Extension specialists suggest such foliage plants as philodendron, Enlish ivy, Christmas cactus, or even a potted azalea or camellia.

Other plants popular for indoor landscaping, particularly during the holiday season, are poinsettia, Jerusalem cherry, Christmas pepper and chrysanthemum.

You can easily make an attractive package from a house plant or tree. Just wrap the base of the plant with Christmas paper and tie with a bright colored bow.

While you are plant shopping, you may want to select a living Christmas present for your own family. A balled and burlapped, or container - grown evergreen can be used as the family Christmas tree.

If care is taken to prevent the ball of soil from drying out, it can be placed in the home landscape after the holiday season.

'Holiday Splendor' Is Garden Club Program

Mrs. James Camp, Mrs. George Hollas and Mrs. Dan McDaniel were hostesses for the Fleur de lis Garden Club Christmas meeting at the Camp home Monday night.

Theme for the meeting was 'Holiday Splendor'. Each club member displayed an original Christmas decoration and explained how it was made. The decorations included wreaths, door decorations, stockings, murals, table centerpieces and tree ornaments.

Among the unusual decorations were tree ornaments made of egg shells and a door wreath of sweetgum balls and magnolia leaves. Mrs. Dan McDaniel gave directions for making a minature Christmas tree of chicken wire and sweet gum balls and Mrs. D. R. Dodson displayed a door wreath made of various flowers, leaves and ornaments all sprayed gold and enhanced with a green velvet ribbon and white dove.

During the business meeting plans were made for the club to host a Christmas party for Special Education children on December 22. Mrs. Delbert Burlison is chairman of arrangements.

Linda Jones and Nina Mae Green, members of the Yoe High Honor Society, spoke to the club about writing letters in support of better conditions for American prisoners of War.

Following the program and meeting, hostesses served refreshments of fruit cake, cookies and punch to the 20 members and 3 guests, Mrs. Bernay Dusek, Miss Jones and Miss Green.

Club Plans Yule Party

The Business and Professional Womens Club of Cameron met Monday night at the clubhouse, Milam and 4th Sts. Plans were made for the Christmas party.

Mrs. Sam Houston, Club president, announced that the annual party would be a no-host covered dish supper on Thursday, December 17.

Following the meeting members were served a sandwich plate, cake and punch by the hostess, Mrs. Willie Faulkner.

DKG Plans Yule Party

Beta Nu and Beta Beta chapters of Delta Kappa Gamma will meet jointly for a Christmas party Saturday, December 12.

The annual meeting will be at 10:30 a.m. at Hamilton House, 1521 Austin Aven., Waco.

To Mr. and Mrs. Henry Louis Taylor, 1301 N. Austin, Cameron, a gril, Annisa Renee, 5 pounds 15 ounces, born 3:45 a.m. December 8 at St. Edward Hospital.

To Mr. and Mrs. Roman Razo, Jr., 836 W. Bell St., Rockdale, a girl, Vernoica Lynn, 6 pounds 14 ounces, born 6:45 a.m. December 5 at St. Edward Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Doskocil announce the arrival of a baby girl, Wendy Kristine, 6 pounds, born Nov. 23 at 5:12 a.m. at Halbert-Vardemann Hospital in Rosebud. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Z. T. James of Rosebud and Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Doskocil of Westphalia.

Mrs. Kirk Is Shower Honoree

Mrs. Joe Glenn Kirk was honored with a stork shower Saturday afternoon, December 5, at the home of Mrs. Edward Dach of Belmena.

Coffee, cake, and punch were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Ray Lindamon and Mrs. Dach.

Special guests included mothers, Mrs. Joe Bailey Kirk and Mrs. Katherine Taylor and grandmothers, Mrs. Mollie Henson and Mrs. Otto Koenig.

Bride Feted At Shower

A shower honored Mrs. Jimmy Halpain Sunday, November 29, at the home of Mrs. Leroy Vansa Mrs. Halpain is the former Rosalee Vansa.

Miss Diane Vansa registered at the afternoon party. Special guests were Mrs. Louis Vansa Sr., mother of the bride, Mrs. Annie Vansa, grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. Margaret Halpain, mother of the groom.

Yellow cake squares, mints, nuts, punch and coffee were served to the 40 guests by hostesses, Mrs. Bobby Paholec, Mrs. Chester E. Hays, Mrs. Louis Vansa, Jr., and Mrs. Leroy Vansa.

The Halpains are making their home in Mexia.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Stitch A Sampler

Holiday decorations that mean the most are the ones made by a member of the family or a friend. Used year after year, they become a part of the traditional observance of the Christmas season.

One that will add to your own decorations or make a handsome gift is a holiday needlework sampler.

Samplers have a history dating back to Colonial days, and mention of them can even be found in wills and literature of the early 1500's. They were originally done by young girls learning to sew. They made them for practice or to show their skill.

The holiday sampler above, an original design by Coats & Clark, is worked on cotton monk's cloth with six-strand cotton embroidery floss. The design calls for nine basic embroidery stitches, and the finished size of the sampler is 15 by 19¼". Easy for beginners, it's an inexpensive but rewarding project for holiday needlework.

Free pattern for the sampler can be obtained by sending a stamped self-addressed envelope to the National Cotton Council, Dept. PR, P. O. Box 12285, Memphis, Tennessee.

Holiday Meals Planned For The Busy Hostess

With the holiday season approaching, time is at a premium, and hours previously spent in the kitchen can often be put to good use in other ways. But there is no need to sacrifice a taste-tempting dinner in the holiday rush.

With a little planning, an elegant meat dish, appetizing vegetables, taste-tempting rice and luscious dessert can all be prepared at the same time in the oven -- often in only a little more than an hour.

For your holiday dinner feast in the busy days ahead, we suggest baked herb chicken, baked carrots, rice, a relish tray, assorted breads and, for dessert, lemon apple crisp. The main dish vegetable, rice and dessert can all be cooked in the oven at 325 for 1 1/4 hours.

BAKED HERB CHICKEN

1 (2-2 1/2 lb.) frying chicken, quartered
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1/4 teaspoon basil, crushed
1/4 teaspoon oregano, crushed
1 (10 1/2 oz.) can cream of mushroom soup

Place quartered chicken in 2-quart baking dish. Combine remaining incredients and spoon over chicken. Cover and bake in 325 oven for 1 1/4 hours, or until chicken is tender. Makes 4 servings.

BAKED CARROTS

1 pound carrots
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons butter

Pare carrots and halve or quarter, depending on size. Place in buttered 1-quart casserole, sprinkle with combined salt and pepper and dot with butter. Cover, place in 325 oven and bake for 1 1/4 hours or until carrots are tender. Makes 4 servings.

LEMON APPLE CRISP

7 large tart apples
1 teaspoon lemon rind
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup sifted flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup butter or margarine

Core and slice apples into 8x8x2 inch pan. Sprinkle with grated lemon rind and lemon juice. Mix flour, salt, sugar and cinnamon. Cut in butter or margarine until mixture is crumbly. Spread over apples. Bake in 325 oven 1 1/4 hours. Serve hot or cold; with or without whipped cream. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

SAVORY RICE

2 chicken bouillon cubes
2 cups hot water
1 cup brown or white rice (not quick cooking variety)
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1/2 cup chopped parsley (use scissors for chopping)
1/2 cup diced celery (try cutting on the diagonal)

Dissolve bouillon cubes in the hot water. Add to remaining ingredients and combine. Pour into greased 1 1/2 quart casserole. Cover and bake for 1 1/4 hours in 325 oven. Makes about 6 servings.

Library Fund Drive At $1000

About $1,000 has been contributed thus far to the Friends of the Library 1970-71 funding program, according to Mrs. Judy McDaniel, fund drive chairman.

Contributors total 136 thus far, she said, including five honorary contributions of $25 each, five supporting at $15 each, 44 sustaining memberships at $10 each, 69 individual memberships at $5 and 13 students at $1 each.

Most of the Friends contributions go to library book purchases and other basic operations. Friends use about 10 percent of the goal to host cultural programs.

HOLIDAY SLEEPWEAR: AN OLD-FASHIONED STORY

NEW YORK (ED)—IT WON'T BE A HO-HUM CHRISTMAS—if you're wearing this to sleep! An old-fashioned nightgown that takes you back to the era of home-made pies and home-grown berries, when everything was done by hand. This "Prairie" gown of Kodel polyester and cotton from Raymodes brings back sweet nostalgia and a longing for things past. Apron front with eyelet trim, yellow rickrack and a grosgrain belt complete the look.

A BAUBLE OF A SLEEPSHIRT—when the tree is trimmed and the stockings are hung, slumber off in this Kodel polyester and rayon sleepshirt from Jeri Morton that will stay as crisp as a peppermint stick thanks to its easy wash and wear properties. What better a present to Mom than the promise of permanent press!

A PERIOD PIECE — is this lovely Victorian gown of Kodel polyester rayon from Fashions by Juli. Just the thing for snuggling into after a long, full day of festivities 'round the hearth. Ruffled, white tucked front and cuffs, with velvet sash, it's a breeze to launder.

MAKE IT A PIONEER CHRISTMAS—in this ensemble (far right) called "The Forty-niners and Clementine" from Mr. Jac. The Kodel polyester and cotton empire gown is tucked, crocheted, buttoned and bowed under a matching robe that's quilted with crochet lace trim and crewel work lining for that homespun look. Thanks to Kodel, it's all washable.

Catfish Brand'n, Podnuh

AUSTIN

It's easier to brand a catfish than a yearling bull, podnuh.

Biologists of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department are branding channel catfish in an experimental program to see if the technique should be used more extensively in fishery research.

The catfish branding technique, as one might expect, is considerably different from that used by a cowhand to mark a rancher's stock.

For one thing, the fish are branded with a cold copper instrument rather than a hot iron. The biologists hold the branding tool, which has been super-cooled in a dry ice and acetone solution, on the fishes' sides for one second.

The resulting mark is a dark pattern which grows with the fish and usually remains visible well over a year.

Biologist David L. Pritchard, who conducted an 18-month study into various methods of fish marking, said in a recent report that the cold-branding practice has no apparent ill effect on catfish. Some branded fish, in fact, showed a higher growth rate during some periods than tagged individuals in the same test ponds.

Freeze branded fish are less prone to infection than fish marked with conventional tags.

Another method marking which has been the subject of research lately is the practice of mass-marking with fluorescent spray. A sand blasting gun is used to force the pigment into the fishes' dermal tissue.

However, most experimentation with the spray has been with fingerling-sized fish, while branding is used generally on larger individuals.

The cost of branding, computed over a long period of time, is comparable to tagging, Pritchard found, although the branding operation sometimes takes a bit more manpower for a given number of fish.

The cost of the two methods is about equal if individual marks are not necessary, Pritchard said.

Cold brands could be an important tool for individually marking catfish for fish culture studies, in Pritchard's opinion.

Yoemen Win 2 In Weekend Play

The Yoemen are developing a strong 4-2 pre-district record following two more wins and one loss in weekend play at LaVega and at home.

The Yoemen traveled to Taylor Tuesday night for a rematch with one of two teams which have defeated them.

Monday night, the Yoemen were never headed in a 61-51 win over AAA Brenham, whose height and heft never quite caught the smaller Yoemen in a foul-laden contest.

Brashear hit 18 points for high point honors, closely followed by Jerry Richardson with 16, of which 12 were at foul line. Guard Ken McLerran hit 13. Three Brenham players fouled out, one Cameron.

Shot percentage was about 35 percent for the game.

The Yoe junior varsity won 64-45, Jack Chubb hitting 25 and the Yoe frosh won 42-27, David Hollas hitting 19. The freshman club continues undefeated.

At LaVega last Saturday, the Yoemen lost a first round game to the host team, 65-51, Brashear hitting 19 points and Johnson 8.

But the Yoemen took third place in the tourney with a 55-35 win over AAA Brownwood, Brashear and McLerran sharing Yoe scoring honors with 15 points each. McLerran hit 7 field goals.

Cameron point production in the Brenham contest was even throughout the game, while Brenham fell behind in the first quarter 10 points, the margin that beat them. Twice, Yoemen hit field goals as the buzzer was sounding, one ending the second quarter, one the third.

Scoring by quarters of the three games:

	1st	2nd	3rd	4th	Total
Yoe	14	9	10	18	51
LaVega	16	14	26	9	65
Yoe	11	9	13	22	55
Brownwood	7	13	10	5	35
Yoe	18	15	14	14	61
Brenham	8	17	15	11	51

He Shares His Belief

When Steve Spurrier was ten, he came home from school one day and said to his older brother, Graham: "Graham, our school nurse said the most important thing in the world is good health. But that's not right. The most important thing is to believe in God and Jesus Christ."

Steve Spurrier, the 1966 Heisman Trophy winner, now playing pro football with the San Francisco 49ers, has carried his simple faith all through his illustrious athletic career. Son of a Presbyterian minister, Steve prayed when he played at Science Hill High School in Johnson City, Tennessee. Not to win, but for courage and strength to do his best.

Secretary of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes on campus at the University of Florida, Steve believed and prayed when he led the 'Gators to multiple "come from behind" victories over conference rivals and post-bowl opponents.

It's always too soon to quit, when you believe in your fellowman and yourself," says Steve in his book by that title. All American for two years and heralded as the nation's best quarterback in 1966, Steve Spurrier learned early in life that self control helps you play your best and never give up till the last gun goes off.

Now facing tougher tests in pro ball, Steve still passes, punts, and prays with the same basic belief in Christian ideals. "I can never be thankful enough for the Christian home into which I was born," he says. "I only hope that my own home will influence my children as much as my parents' home influenced me".

You too, can share the Steve Spurrier belief, if only you will, at your own place of worship this week.

Kubiak To Appear At Rate Increase Hearings

Rep. Dan Kubiak said he will be among those appearing at the insurance rate hearings in Dallas on December 16 and in Houston on December 17, to work for defeat of the increase in car insurance rates.

"We in the legislature had anticipated this (the request by the Insurance Commission for an increase) for nearly a year," he said in his newsletter, "but our work in trying to prevent this drastic increase has just begun.

"Let me say that this is not the work of our local insurance people, who would like to see the rates lower, but is the work of the huge companies who dominate the insurance field," he continued.

Rep. Kubiak said he has researched the companies' claim that they need the increase to "stay solvent."

He said, "The casualty insurance industry has never had a year in which it lost money on its total operation. . A company, according to records in our ~~fiels~~ in Rockdale, invests most of its income in stocks and bonds and its main profit does not come from selling insurance, but from investment income."

Those who oppose the recommendation for rate increases should write Durwood Manford, State Insurance Board, Austin, Texas 78711, Rep. Kubiak suggested.

Mrs. Hollas' Grandson Receives Grid Honors

Robert G. Foster Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Foster Sr. of Belleville, Ill., was named as defense end on the first team of Independent Schools in the Metro East Area of St. Louis, Mo.

Robert is the grandson of Mrs. Joe Hollas of Cameron, and is a senior at O'Fallon Township High.

He was also named to the second team for all schools in the Metro East Area, which consists of 20 schools.

Library Board Hears Report

Directors of the Cameron Public Library met Monday night and heard a financial report by Library Treasurer Stewart J. Perkins.

Perkins reported $65 spent on new books in November and a balance in the book fund of $693.

Hearne To Dedicate New Fire Station

The Hearne Volunteer Fire Department is extending an invitation to the public to attend the dedication and open house of the new fire station Saturday, December 12.

The dedication will be at 1 p.m., with open house to follow until 5 p.m.

Adrian A. Richter, vice president of the Department, said everyone is invited to attend.

Christmas Program Sun.

Mrs. Tommy Corley is director for the Christmas program and Mrs. Hilliard Thomas will be organist. Soloists will be Mrs. Corley, John Henderson, Jr., Jack Terhune, Mrs. Ann Gaskey, Mrs. Jimmy Woodum, Don Humble, Miss Jan Stewart and Miss Marion Thomas.

Dams, Reservoirs Versus Ecology

AUSTIN

Just the mention of a reservoir in water-short Texas often brings cries of joy from around the state.

A reservoir means water saved great recreational opportunities in the way of boating and fishing, and increases in property values for those owning shoreline property.

But as more and more of Texas reservoirs are built, biologists, ecologists and wildlife specialists are taking second looks at reservoirs to assess their impact on wildlife ecology.

R. G. Mauermann, deputy director of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, says the well-known law of physics which states "for every action there is an opposite and equal reaction," can be applies to environmental problems too.

"In the environmental sense," says Mauermann, "we can be sure that whenever the environment is altered by any action of man or nature, changes from the known normally will follow. Because nature and the environment are dynamic, gains made in one direction are usually made at the expense of something else."

The old belief that fish and wildlife resources will be enhanced by construction of reservoirs is not necessarily so. It is possible, he warns, that fish and wildlife will be adversely influenced by the construction of storage reservoirs or conveyeance structures, such as canals, for the distribution of water to areas of water shortage.

Because reservoirs inundate large areas of bottomland, the state loses thousands of acres of prime, or potentially prime, habitat for deer, turkeys, squirrels and furbearers. With the present reservoirs and those planned for the future, this represents a tremendous loss of first-rate, irreplaceable habitat.

Unless there is suitable unoccupied habitat into which the displaced wildlife can move, it will not survive.

Any crowding, according to Mauermann, will not be beneficial for either the wildlife or its habitat.

Fish benefit only temporarily when irreplaceable stream habitat is inundated, creating open water habitat.

"Stream species," Mauermann said, "which are left above the dam of a newly-inundated reservoir basin, usually find very favorable conditions because their numbers are few compared with reservoir water volume. Because their environment is suddenly expanded, game fish populations explode and, for a while, flourish."

But biologists after taking a long term view of the situation have seen that the fish which ultimately dominate the reservoir fish populations are those naturally best adapted to the newly-created open water habitat. These are what most persons consider "rough fish" such as carp, buffalo, shad and suckers.

Taylor Crushes Yoemen

The Yoemen came home Tuesday night with a 4-3 record after the AAA Taylor Duck's smothered the cage Yoemen, 70-42 in a non-district game.

It was the second time in two weeks the Ducks took the Yoe measure by a decisive score.

The Yoe junior varsity also lost to Taylor, 58-35, while Yoeman Jack Chubb hit 23 of Cameron's points.

And the Yoe Frosh lost their season's first to the Taylor, 41-35 with John Barron hitting 21 for Cameron.

Robert Brashear hit 16 points in the Yoe varsity effort while Greg Buzan led Taylor scoring with 21.

Scoring by quarters:

	1st	2nd	3rd	4th	Total
Yoe	6	11	14	11	42
Taylor	15	17	15	23	70

Safety Tips For Christmas Lights

Special lighting has become an important way of conveying Christmas messages in many homes. For a bright and safe holiday season, follow tips for safer, easier installation and maintenance of lighting decorations.

Before hanging Christmas lights, examine the strings carefully, replacing those that have frayed wires or damaged sockets.

Next check the bulbs, replacing old ones with new in places that may be difficult to reach once the strings are positioned.

Protect spots where outdoor plugs and connectors join with wrappings of plastic film. Seal the ends with plastic tape.

For outdoor Christmas lights, sockets must be waterproof and bulbs should be made of glass that is resistant to sudden temperature change, in case of rain or show. Bulbs for outdoor strings are larger than indoor bulbs.

For hanging outdoor decorations, use brass cup hooks. Clothesline hooks may be used to support heavier displays.

Always use insulated staples to fasten electrical cord or string sets to wooden or cardboard surfaces.

Keep the string set wire or lamp from rubbing against eaves by taping the string to brass cup hooks fastened every 12 to 18 inches along the path of the wire.

Corrugated cardboard may be used to protect doors and walls from being scratched by decorations.

Before decorating the indoor Christmas tree, stand it in a pail of water for a few days before setting it up, then use a tree holder with a water container. Examine the branches daily, and if there are dried needles near or around the lights, move the lights to another position.
